Dikes Bombed In 12 Places None Major, U.S. Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. intelligence report says bombs have hit 12 places in North Vietnam's widespread dike network, but "the damage is minor."

The State Department released the eight-page intelligence finding Friday in a follow-up to President Nixon's denial of Hanoi's charges that the United States is deliberately trying to knock out the vital water control system in the Red River delta.

But the department continued to keep secret the July 10-11 U.S. aerial photos said to support the finding. State Department officials said release of the pictures would do no good in the Washington-Hanoi exchange of allegations about the bombing, because they expect North Vietnam would only respond with more photos alleging dike damage.

The intelligence document, which State Department officials said was based on complete photo coverage of the entire Red River delta area in northern North Vietnam, maintained:

"Photographic evidence shows conclusively that there has been no intentional bombing of the dikes. A few dikes have been hit by stray bombs directed at military-associated targets nearby.

"The damage is minor and no major dike has been breached.

"The damage can be easily repaired—in a matter of a few days—and has not been sufficient to cause any flooding.

"No damage has been observed in the Hanoi area or against the primary dike system protecting that city."

State Department officials said the U.S. intelligence conclusions and pictures were shown to United Nations Secretary General Kurt Waldheim Monday by Ambassador George Bush when the U.S. envoy sought to refute Waldheim's criticism of the U.S. air attacks on North Vietnam.

Report On State Banking Statutes Urges Changes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan will receive a report Monday from his Ohio Bank Study Commission, a concise 25-page document expected to contain a number of recommendations for change in the state's banking statutes.

"We've attempted to analyze all of the states banking laws to make the state banking system of Ohio the most responsive, most flexible and most competitive in the country," said Dr. Douglas Austin of the University of Toledo, commission chairman.

Austin said Friday he could not answer questions on the contents of the report until after it goes to the governor around noon Monday.

But a staffer in the Ohio Department of Commerce who sat in on a number of the 12-member commission's 200 hours of meetings since its creation last November said these areas were discussed at some length:

—Possible elimination of the state's usury laws as they apply to banks. The law sets a ceiling on interest banks can charge for non-corporate loans under $100,000.

—Broader authority for the superintendent of banks in the Commerce Department to regulate banking activities.

—Permission for banks under some circumstances to establish branches outside the counties where their headquarters are located.

—Uniform capitalization requirements for new banks, regardless of the population of the area in which they are established.

—Stricter qualifications for bank directors and more specific regulations for their removal.

The commission included members from the banking industry, academics, legislators and financial consultants.

Their recommendations will be reviewed by the governor. Those that are accepted probably will be drafted into bills for the 110th General Assembly by the Legislative Service Commission, Austin said.

VFW Liquor License Lifted For 70 Days

The Ohio Department of Liquor Control announced today the liquor license of the Henry Page Folsom VFW Post 3331, 217 N. Court St., has been suspended for 70 days.

The suspension begins noon Aug. 26 and ends noon Nov. 4. The suspension was for possession of a gambling device on March 6, 1972.

Circleville Police initiated the investigation on a report from an informant that the club was operating a "cold cookie jar" (a tip ticket gambling device that had no payoff tickets).

Police confiscated the device, confirmed the report there were no payoff slips in the machine and turned the investigation over to the Department of Liquor Control.

Ellender Rites Slated Monday

President Leads
Official Mourners

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The body of Allen J. Ellender, who died at 81 while campaigning for a seventh term in the U.S. Senate, is being returned to Louisiana today.

Ellender was first elected to the Senate 35 years ago, months after an assassin's bullet had cut down the legendary Huey Long.

Gov. Edwin Edwards ordered the doors of the state capitol opened at 10 a.m. to allow the public to pay respects to Ellender, who died Thursday in Washington.

Ellender's body was to lay in state most of today, and then it was scheduled to be taken to Houma, his hometown, for another full day in public view. The funeral is Monday.

President Nixon has announced he will lead a delegation of high-ranking congressmen to the funeral, and U.S. Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., the Democratic presidential nominee, said he and his vice presidential running mate, U.S. Sen. Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., would be there, too.

Ellender, who criss-crossed the state for two months in the face of what some called the stiffest challenge of his political career, died only hours after making a campaign swing across North Louisiana.

He consistently rejected inferences from his 40-year-old opponent, former state Sen. J. Bennett Johnson of Shreveport he was to old for the job.

"There's not a man in the Senate, young or old," he said at one point, "that can carry the load I can carry."

South Vietnamese Take District Town Of Hoai An

SAIGON (AP) — About 1,000 South Vietnamese soldiers took the district town of Hoai An with "very light resistance" Friday, ending a three-month occupation by the enemy, field informants reported.

It was the third district town on the central coast recaptured by Saigon troops in the last 10 days. Bong Son and Tam Quan were the others.

Meanwhile, North Vietnamese troops who moved out of the area Thursday night encountered a South Vietnamese unit on the outskirts of Bong Son and house-to-house fighting erupted.

At last report the Saigon troops were said to be "holding their own," and Bong Son appeared in no danger of falling into enemy hands again.

Nixon Tries To Choke Off End-The-War Amendments

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is trying to choke off the momentum gathering behind end-the-war proposals in Congress by asserting that passage would jeopardize his ability to carry out U.S. foreign policy.

There was no immediate indication that Nixon's appeal, carried in letters to congressional leaders, had caused any wavering among antiwar senators or congressmen.

The Senate, for example, approved by voice vote Friday a ban on the use of fire storms and rain making as weapons of war in Indochina or elsewhere and prepared for a new vote next week on cutting off funds for American involvement in the fighting.

Republican leaders were said to be fearful that a fund cutoff would gain majority support, the Washington Post reported, and were preparing a weakened version in an effort to lure senators who hesitate to cut off funds but nevertheless favor some sort of antiwar legislation.

Antiwar amendments in the Senate and House have been tacked onto larger bills covering military funding or foreign aid.

In his letter, Nixon said the various amendments "threaten foreign aid and defense procurement (and) . . . thus jeopardize the whole conduct of foreign policy."

But he stopped short of threatening to veto the bills if the end-the-war amendments survive.

The letter was released Friday by House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford. Democratic leaders also received copies.

Though acknowledging there is serious disagreement over how to end the fighting, Nixon said, "the responsibility for doing so is above all mine, and I intend to carry out this obligation in a responsible way."

In the Senate, a proposal to cut off Indochina war funds will come up Wednesday attached to a $20.5 billion weapons authorization bill.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee has approved an amendment ordering withdrawal of U.S. forces from Indochina by Oct. 1 in return for release of American prisoners. Tacked on to a $2.1 billion foreign aid bill, it probably will be voted on by the full House late next week.

Wallenda Performer Dies In Fall

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — A member of the famed "Flying Wallendas" circus aerial act fell to his death before an opening night circus crowd here Friday night.

Richard Guzman, 29, a son-in-law of Carl Wallenda, apparently contacted a live electrical wire while climbing a pole during the family's act and fell 60 feet to the ground, police said.

A reserve policeman, Harry Croft, rushed to break Guzman's fall and was slightly injured when Guzman fell on him. City police said this morning he suffered neck and shoulder injuries.

Guzman was not breathing and had no heartbeat when officials reached him. His breathing was restored by mouth-to-mouth resuscitation administered by registered nurse Judy Marconi of nearby Raymond, Ohio, who was in the audience.

Guzman died a few hours after the accident at a Wheeling hospital, officials said, and the cause of death was tentatively listed as head injuries.

The family was performing in the Osiris Shrine Circus here.

The victim's father-in-law was walking a wire across the Wheeling Island Stadium and had to complete his walk after seeing his son-in-law fall. Guzman was married to Carla Wallenda.

The circus, with a total of three performances here, was postponed earlier this summer when Wheeling Island was inundated by Ohio River floodwaters from Western Pennsylvania.

Inmate - Commuters Working On New Prison

LUCASVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's new $32 million maximum security prison—plagued by months of contract trouble—has a rare pair of commuting convicts instead of inmates.

Joseph Cooney of Cleveland and Ray Adkins of Toledo, both imprisoned for first-degree murder, commute daily to this Scioto County village to this Chillicothe Correctional Institute, 35 miles to the north.

They are the first Ohio convicts to enter the vast prison, Cooney works with maintenance and Adkins is compiling personnel files.

The plan to have by now a sizeable group of inmates transferred to Lucasville from Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus has run into problems.

"We haven't got the food service working and we haven't got a secure source of power," said Lucasville Supt. William Wheeler, himself a commuter from Chillicothe. "Until we get those two things we can't take in prisoners."

The state Department of Public

Works has refused to accept the prison as it is and has ordered modifications. To insure their completion, the state has withheld 4 per cent of the cost of the prison—more than a million dollars.

In turn, the main contractor has withheld from subcontractors 10 per cent of their money.

The contractor has been under penalty since June 1.

In Columbus Bennett Cooper, state corrections chief, said, "I would expect we will be getting into it in August some time."

Sup. Wheeler said the latest completion date given him was Aug. 13. "I don't know," he said, "I've been given four different dates since I got here."

In the spring Coper estimated that all of the 1,200 or so inmates to be moved to Lucasville from Ohio Penitentiary would be there by early fall.

One pessimistic penologist said, "I'd be happy if they got shifted in another year."

Adkins, one of the convict commuters, said, "This place is set up for a person to go straight, learn a trade and get some education. It's a worse crime than a man did outside if he comes in here and doesn't take advantage of the facilities to better himself."

One group of prisoners who aren't commuting from Chillicothe is a bus-load who rolled out of Ohio Penitentiary May 30. They got as far south as Chillicothe. They still live there.

The prison grapevine says the regular Chillicothe prisoners aren't happy about it.

McGovern Backs Away From Stand

CUSTER, S.D. (AP) — Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton's future as the Democratic candidate for vice president appeared to be in serious doubt today, but presidential nominee George McGovern said any decision would be made by the two candidates together.

The South Dakota senator, meanwhile, prepared to leave his vacation spot near here today to fly from Rapid City to Mitchell, his boyhood home, and Aberdeen, for a speech to the state Democratic convention. He then planned to return to Washington.

McGovern said in an interview Friday night that both he and Eagleton are deliberating "over the proper course." Earlier, McGovern had expressed "1,000 per cent" support for his running mate, who has disclosed that on three occasions between 1960 and 1966 he was hospitalized for nervous exhaustion.

Any decision about Eagleton's future, McGovern said outside his cabin at his nearby Sylvan Lake retreat, won't be made "without his concurrence."

Earlier in the evening, speaking to reporters as he table-hopped in the dining room of the Sylvan Lake Lodge, McGovern said, "It's Eagleton's decision to make. Whatever he decides, I'll stand by him."

Aides said the phrase "without his concurrence" was designed to make clear that McGovern wasn't leaving the issue solely up to Eagleton, who has made increasingly strong statements about his intention to remain on the ticket.

Eagleton said Friday in San Francisco that there was "no possibility whatsoever" that he would leave the ticket unless McGovern asked. He added: "I'm confident that George (Continued on Page 12)

Dikes Bombed In 12 Places None Major, U.S. Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. intelligence report says bombs have hit 12 places in North Vietnam's widespread dike network, but "the damage is minor."

The State Department released the eight-page intelligence finding Friday in a follow-up to President Nixon's denial of Hanoi's charges that the United States is deliberately trying to knock out the vital water control system in the Red River delta.

American-Western Airlines Merger Nixed; Other OKd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The proposed merger of American and Western airlines has collapsed, but the union of two other major airlines, Delta and Northeast, has moved toward certain consummation next Tuesday.

The Civil Aeronautics Board Friday rejected the proposed merger of Western into American, saying it would upset competitive balances without providing offsetting public benefits.

President Nixon, exercising his authority over international airline matters, endorsed the CAB's refusal to transfer Western's routes into Mexico and Canada to American.

American had agreed to pay Western about $178 million for its acquisition.

The board said that American would have undue advantage if its mainland-to-Hawaii route authority were combined with Western's trans-Pacific route rights.

In another development, the U.S. Court of Appeals here refused Friday to block the Delta-Northeast merger, scheduled to take effect Tuesday.

The court denied the joint petition of Eastern Air Lines and National Airlines for a stay of the CAB order May 19 approving the merger.

The court set a hearing on the case for Sept. 17. If a court decision should overturn the CAB, the two carriers would face the unprecedented task of unscrambling their merger.

For its part, the CAB was confident enough of the soundness of its decision to speculate publicly that there is little chance of court reversal.

Inmate - Commuters Working On New Prison

LUCASVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's new $32 million maximum security prison—plagued by months of contract trouble—has a rare pair of commuting convicts instead of inmates.

Joseph Cooney of Cleveland and Ray Adkins of Toledo, both imprisoned for first-degree murder, commute daily to this Scioto County village from Chillicothe Correctional Institute, 35 miles to the north.

They are the first Ohio convicts to enter the vast prison. Cooney works with maintenance and Adkins is compiling personnel files.

The plan to have by now a sizeable group of inmates transferred to Lucasville from Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus has run into problems.

"We haven't got the food service working and we haven't got a secure source of power," said Lucasville Supt. William Whealon, himself a commuter from Chillicothe. "Until we get those two things we can't take in prisoners."

The state Department of Public Works has refused to accept the prison as it is and has ordered modifications. To insure their completion, the state has withheld 4 per cent of the cost of the prison—more than a million dollars.

In turn, the main contractor has withheld from subcontractors 10 per cent of their money.

The contractor has been under penalty since June 1.

In Columbus Bennet Cooper, state corrections chief, said, "I would expect we will be getting into it in August some time."

Sup. Whealon said the latest completion date given him was Aug. 13. "I don't know," he said, "I've been given four different dates since I got here."

In the spring Coper estimated that all of the 1,200 or so inmates to be moved to Lucasville from Ohio Penitentiary would be there by early fall.

One pessimistic penologist said, "I'd be happy if they got shifted in another year."

Adkins, one of the convict commuters, said, "This place is set up for a person to go straight, learn a trade and get some education. It's a worse crime than a man did outside if he comes in here and doesn't take advantage of the facilities to better himself."

One group of prisoners who aren't commuting from Chillicothe is a bus-load who rolled out of Ohio Penitentiary May 30. They got as far south as Chillicothe. They still live there.

The prison grapevine says the regular Chillicothe prisoners aren't happy about it.

Bats Cause Many Concerns

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

For centuries bats have been associated with legend with witch craft and sorcery, and a fear of them has been instilled in humans. This fear is entirely unfounded, as bats are harmless. Bats do not attack humans nor, as commonly supposed, do they get themselves tangled in peoples' hair. In recent years there have been isolated cases of rabies reported in bats, but these are by no means as common as in most of our native wildlife or domestic animals. However, do not pick up bats found on the ground.

Bats are not birds, as sometimes believed, but true flying mammals. Their "wings" are formed by a thin membrane connecting the greatly elongated forearm and fingers with the hind limbs and body. They are the only mammal thus equipped for flight. Unlike most nocturnal animals, bats have very small eyes. Nevertheless, even on the darkest nights, they can fly swiftly and unerringly through dense tree growths or other obstructions. This is possible because of their built-in "radar". Their high-pitched cries are reflected from solid objects, thus warning them of obstructions in their path. This speed and mobility of flight enables bats to feed upon night-flying insects which form the bulk of their food.

The bats common in this country average 3 to 5 inches in body length, with the wingspread averaging between 10 and 15 inches. Their bodies are covered with fur and the most common forms are some shade of brown.

Depending upon the species, mating may occur in the fall or sporadically throughout the winter. However, fertilization and development do not begin until spring. The young, usually one or two in number, are born in early summer after a gestation period thought to range from two to three months. No nest of any kind is provided and the young are carried by the mother until they are able to fly and shift for themselves.

Bats feed at night and occupy shelter in caves, hollow trees, attics, etc. in the daytime, hanging head down by means of the curved rigid claws on their hind feet. Some species migrate with the changing seasons and follow steady sources of good food supply. Others hibernate during the colder months. Most species congregate in groups or colonies, some of which number in the tens of thousands or perhaps in the millions. When roosts occur in attics or partitions of occupied buildings, or in barns, they are usually highly objectionable because of the odor from the urine and droppings. The noise created by their crawling is annoying, and bats may harbor the bat bug Cimex pilosellus which closely resembles the bed bug. The odor of a roost is persistent and may serve to attract new colonies after the roost is broken up.

Bats can usually be driven out of attics or other enclosed spaces by sprinkling naphthalene flakes or paradichlorobenzene liberally over the area. Three to five pounds of one or the other of this material is usually sufficient to treat the average attic. These chemicals, commonly used as moth and insect repellents, are so objectionable to bats that they will vacate the area shortly after the material is exposed, even in broad daylight. Both chemicals dissipate upon exposure to air and repeat applications may be necessary if no other controls are used.

Bats are quite persistent and it is often difficult to dislodge them from old established roosts. Also, new individuals may be attracted by the odors left by the departed guests. Therefore, bat proofing is a necessary adjunct to the use of repellents.

Bats may enter buildings through unprotected louvers or vents, broken windows, or other open spaces. They may also enter through very small openings in old siding, or around eaves or cornices. The smaller species of bats can crawl through an opening as narrow as 1/4 inch, so a very careful inspection is necessary in order to close all possible entrances.

The larger openings should be covered with sheet metal or with 1/4-inch mesh hardware cloth if ventilation is desired. Narrow cracks can be plugged with oakum, tow, or similar packing material, and sealed with caulking compound. This will provide useful weather protection as well.

Be sure that all bats are out of the building before bat proofing work is completed. During the warmer months, when bats are active, all occupants normally leave the roost within 15 to 20 minutes after the first one starts out. If they have been disturbed, however, the normal routine may be upset, and one or two of the most used openings should be temporarily left open. In the evening after the last bat has left for feeding, close the remaining openings. If a number of entrances have been used, wait two or three days before closing the last one, thus allowing all occupants to learn to enter through this last opening. It can then be easily located and closed. If any holes have been overlooked, the bats will soon find them, so it is necessary to watch the building closely at dusk for several evenings to find the entrances.

The use of poisoned bait is impractical since bats feed primarily upon flying insects.

Excellent control has been obtained in many instances by spraying rafters and other woodwork where bats roost with a strong insecticide. This method is rather slow in action, usually requiring a few weeks for results to be seen. The bats accumulate the poison on their feet and body and, in cleaning themselves, consume lethal amounts.

And So It Grows

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Home gardeners can always use organic matter, particularly around homes where basement soil was spread over existing top soil. Getting plenty of this material is not always easy and the buildup from year to year in the gardening soil is slow.

So save those lawns, grass clippings, weeds that haven't gone to seed, citrus fruit peel and other materials that decompose into good organic matter. You can form a container for a compost pile with hog wire. Hide the compost pile, concrete blocks, chicken wire or if you can, from view by locating it behind a building, hedgerow or other barrier.

Put down a layer of any organic material you have available in an area three to four feet square. Then add a layer of fertilizer such as 10-8-4 or equivalent (sprinkled heavily). Fertilizer speeds decomposition of organic materials and adds nutrients that will be available for garden crops. Next, add a layer of garden soil. Soil stimulates bacterial action which aids in decomposition. Repeat these layers as you have available organic material and wet the pile down each time. Spade fork the mixture about every six weeks to two months. The compost pile should not be deeper than about four feet to facilitate easier turning as the material decomposes.

You can expect good organic matter in 10 to 12 months.

Those of you who planted cucumbers this year (providing you had space) may get wilting or dying of vines. If this has happened to you in past years, think back ... do you remember seeing any small green beetles with spots or stripes on them. If so, chances are your plants died from bacterial wilt transmitted to the plant by these beetles.

This is a very common ill of cucumbers and related plants. To prevent this from happening, spray or dust each week until frost. Effective insecticides include Sevin, malathion and methoxychlor. Any of these may be used within one day of picking, to protect bees, apply your insecticide in the late evening after bees have retired for the night.

Hot, windy days in late July and August can quickly deplete soil moisture in the vegetable garden — flower beds, too. You can avoid these problems by watering your plants once each week, if you do not get an inch or more of rain during the week. It is best to water thoroughly once a week then lightly several times. Leave the sprinkler or irrigation system on long enough to wet the soil at least six inches deep. Most of us fail to do this because it takes several hours per setting on lawns and gardens.

Mulches reduce loss of moisture in gardens and flower beds. Where you have two to four inches of mulch, check the soil underneath to determine if watering is needed.

A food that's probably as old as civilization itself is making a comeback today as a snack food. The American Indians used it long before this country was settled. The men in Lewis and Clark's expedition found it an ideal food because it needed no refrigeration. And the pioneers and prospectors made it a staple in their diet as they forged westward.

"Charqui," as the early Andean peoples called it, is today known as "jerky," and its popularity is spreading across the country.

The product, sold in food stores and by mail order, is thinly sliced lean beef, which has been spiced and airdried, oven dried, or smoked. With advanced processing techniques, it can be made within 24 hours, instead of the 2 to 3 months it took for natural curing when the pioneers and Indians made it.

U.S. Department of Agriculture inspection of sanitation and processing, as for all meat products shipped interstate, helps provide "from hoof to package" assurance that jerky is wholesome and truthfully labeled. Inspectors check sanitation of equipment, facilities, and all materials used in processing, as well as the meat itself at various processing stages.

Inspectors scrutinize the labeling, and see that the moisture-protein ratio is such that the product won't require refrigeration.

In addition to the fact that jerky has a shelf-stable quality it is easy to "take with" because it does not need refrigeration. Jerky can be tasty with your favorite drink as an hors d'oeuvre, or as a nutritious between-meal snack.

Stop 'Hidden Hunger' Through Plant Analysis

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

"Hidden hunger" may be limiting crop yields on your farm or in your garden, even though the plants look healthy. The term refers to nutrient deficiencies so slight that the plants give no visual warning symptoms.

"Hidden hunger", although not apparent in the plant, is the kind of nutrient deficiency that costs growers the most money," claims John Trieweller, Extension Agronomist, The Ohio State University. "The best way to detect it is through plant analysis," he adds.

Even slight deficiencies of any plant nutrient will cause yield losses, Trieweller explains. So plant analysis usually pays off either in improving this year's yields or in avoiding such deficiencies in next year's crop.

"We know from much research what the nutrient composition of a healthy plant should be at various stages of growth," the agronomist says. "This nutrient composition varies with different species, plant parts and numerous other factors. However, for a given set of conditions, the desired levels of each of the nutrients is known so a comparison of the nutrient level with the desirable level shows up any deficiencies."

"PLANT analysis," Trieweller continues, "monitors the entire spectrum in plant nutrition. It shows not only nutrient excesses as well. Too much of a given nutrient may decrease yield by becoming toxic or inducing a deficiency in another nutrient. For progressive growers who are fertilizing for top yields, plant analysis shows if they are approaching this point of nutrient imbalance from heavy fertilizer applications."

Plant analysis then can be used as a way to monitor the overall fertilizer program. You can secure plant analysis services by contacting your Pickaway County Cooperative Extension Service office at 137 W. Franklin Street, to purchase special mailers.

These mailers include plant sampling instructions and an information sheet for soil and for cropping and fertilizer history. Allow about two weeks after sending the samples to the Plant Analysis Laboratory for receiving analytical results, interpretation and recommendations.

Retirement Study Panel Head Sought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Thomas Morgan, newly-elected chairman of the Ohio Retirement Study Commission, says it may be "a couple of months" before the group picks a new, $24,000-a-year chairman.

Have you read any good books lately? Recently, a random survey came up with some predictable answers and a few startling surprises.

Overwhelmingly most people confess to reading mysteries and thrillers. Some read hobby books, and others adhered to the best-seller lists. There were a few independent souls who pursued private studies of their own.

"Does it have to be one from the Library? 'Around our House' is the last one I borrowed. I liked it because it is a comfortable book. It puts no strain on the reader." This book is by Henry and Janice Holt Giles, one of many written by this husband and wife team.

"I read 'Premonitions.' I have them, you know." This lady went on to describe several instances in which her "hunches" had proven to be clairvoyant. "But they're always about someone close to me. That's what the book says. You have to be emotionally involved." "Premonitions" is by Herbert B. Greenhouse.

O'Hara is a favorite author of mine. I just finished 'The Ewings.' He died, you know, it's his last book."

"After I saw 'The Godfather' I wanted to read the book. I liked it. Lots of fast action." Mario Puzo wrote 'The Godfather.'"

"Oh, 'The Dave!' I had seen the story in the National Geographic and I just loved it! Have you seen those gorgeous pictures? and that Robin? He was simply fantastic to sail around the world at his age!"

"Lately I've been reading about English history. I guess that television series on Henry VIII sparked my interest. The last one I read was 'The King's Pleasure' which is about Katharine of Aragon. Boy, was Henry ever mean to her! She ended in real poverty, and after all, she was the Dowager Princess of Wales. 'King's Pleasure' is by Norah Lofts, who has written many historical novels.

"Go Ask Alice." This was a teen-age talking. "The fact that it is a diary made it seem real. And it wasn't like other books on drugs — they always end happy. But in this one she said at the last that she was going to go straight. Then the next page told how she died a week later. No one knew whether it was a suicide or an accident. It was a great book." This title is popular with both adults and young adults. It seems to have an impact on everyone who reads it.

"Which one? I've been reading several. I read 'The Lord of the Flies' and now I'm halfway through 'The Valley of Decision' by Marcia Davenport. Next I'm going to read 'Michael, Michael' by Robert Lewis. One I really liked was 'The Magic Mushroom!' It's by Andrija Puharich!"

"I'm reading all black literature now. Just finished some good ones. Can't think of the titles. 'Anger Family' — something like that."

Consumer Chief Promises War On Deception

CINCINNATI (AP) — Newly-appointed Director of the Ohio Consumer Protection Division of the Ohio Department of Commerce Cheryl Karner, 26, told a news conference here today she intended to investigate a wide variety of deceptive sales practices.

The new Consumer Sales Practices Act, recently enacted by the state, empowers her agency to turn over her findings to the Ohio Attorney General for prosecution.

"The Ohio consumer now has a place to turn in the case of fraud and unscrupulous acts," she said.

She said her division is investigating complaints in numerous consumer areas, including: warranties on auto repairs and appliances, home improvements including basement waterproofing, furnace repairs, room additions, home solicitations, consumer credit and other problems.

Nixon Rips Critics Of War Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Counterattacking in the war of words over U.S. bombing, President Nixon says his critics have been duped by Hanoi's propaganda and should recognize that he has held in check "the great power that could finish off North Vietnam in an afternoon."

He also told a news conference Thursday that congressmen who vote for end-the-war resolutions are signaling the communists to stall in peace talks at a time when "the chance for a negotiated settlement is better ... than it has ever been."

The President stopped short of denying that any U.S. bombs had damaged North Vietnam's dikes and dams, but singled out United Nations Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim for seizing "upon this enemy-inspired propaganda which has taken in many well-intentioned and naive people."

Waldheim said this week he had received information that the dikes had been damaged by U.S. warplanes and appealed for a halt in the bombing.

The State Department said Wednesday there had been slight and unintentional damage to the installations, and Nixon said Thursday "if damage did occur ... we are making every possible effort to see that it will not occur again."

As he faced reporters in his Oval Office, Nixon plunged into a spirited defense of his Vietnam policies, setting the stage for continuing debate in an election campaign he predicted would be "close ... hard-fought ... right down to the wire."

He declined to discuss the disclosure of Democratic vice-presidential nominee Thomas Eagleton's past psychiatric treatment, saying he would not "interject myself into that problem" and that he would not campaign on personalities.

"The issues that divide the opposite side and this administration are so wide—in fact, the clearest choice in this century — that we must campaign in the issues," he said.

One major campaign issue is Vietnam, and Nixon indirectly took Democratic nominee George McGovern to task for saying he would halt the bombing immediately and bring all U.S. troops and prisoners of war home within 90 days—proposals which Republicans say hurt U.S. peace efforts.

"The fastest way to end the war and the best way to end it is through negotiation," the President said. "We would hope that public figures in their comments will not do anything to undercut the negotiations."

Nixon said U.S. negotiators have made "a very fair offer" to end the war, but that the enemy is hearing Congress say "in effect, 'We will give you what you want regardless of what the President has offered.' Why not wait?"

The Senate amended a foreign-aid bill Monday to cut off Vietnam funds within four months if war prisoners were released, then killed the entire bill. On Tuesday, the House Foreign Affairs Committee voted to order a complete withdrawal by Oct. 1 subject to prisoner release, a limited cease-fire, and an accounting of missing GIs.

Referring to promised future votes, Nixon said:

"I would hope that as senators and congressmen consult their consciences, they would realize that we have just three months left before the election."

"In those three months we hope to do everything we can to bring this war to an end, and they should take no action which would jeopardize those negotiations ..."

Just as the congressional votes had, Waldheim's statement at a Monday news conference clearly annoyed the President.

"It is time to strip away the double standard," Nixon declared as he said "the secretary-general of the U.N., just like his predecessor," criticized U.S. bombing but did not raise "one word against deliberate bombing of civilian installations in South Vietnam" by the communists.

There have been 45,000 civilian casualties in the South since Hanoi launched its offensive, Nixon said.

"The United States has been restrained," he added. "We will continue to be restrained."

Later, he elaborated: "We are not going to bomb civilian targets in the North. We are not using the great power that could finish off North Vietnam in an afternoon, and we will not."

In New York, a spokesman at U.N. headquarters said Waldheim had been informed of Nixon's remarks and "he stands by his original statements."

Nixon, responding to questions about the coming presidential campaign, said, "we are going to assume throughout this election that we have a very hard fight on our hands. This will be a close, hard-fought election right down to the wire ... we think it will be close and we hope to win."

Stokes Says Eagleton Should Get Out

CINCINNATI (AP) — If U.S. Sen. Thomas Eagleton doesn't remove himself from the Democratic presidential ticket, it could deal a fatal blow to the party's chance of winning the White House, said former Cleveland Mayor Carl Stokes.

"If McGovern has to take action on it, or if the Democratic National Committee has to try to move against it, then it will certainly spell defeat for the ticket," Stokes said about the combination of U. S. Sen. George McGovern for President and Eagleton for vice president.

Tolls Don't Mix

The invention of a gadget for the automobile ignition system which prevents a drunk from starting the engine until he has sobered sufficiently to regain his reflexes was a stroke of genius. So apparently is the toll road — although not many motorists have looked upon one that way.

Figures compiled in Washington indicate toll roads are more than twice as safe as those which are free. Why this is so isn't explained, but there is at least one obvious explanation.

With drinking drivers involved in a large percentage of accidents nationally, including about half of those re-

Income Gap

By JEFFERY HART

In a recent think-piece in the New York Times, columnist Anthony Lewis listed three "painful realities with which any President will have to deal." As you might expect, one of them was the Vietnamese War. The second was the gap between rich and poor countries. The third was the income gap between urban blacks and suburban whites as exemplified by Mr. Lewis by the situation in and around Newark, N.J. It is on this third item that I wish to focus, for Lewis' attitude is certainly widespread — even though completely unjustified.

Census figures, he observes, have "showed that between 1960 and 1970 suburban areas of predominantly white population increased their already large margin of affluence over black urban areas. In Newark, now a black-majority city, median family income rose from $5,454 to $7,735 during the decade — a gain of 42 per cent. In nearby Montclair, a mixed and not particularly rich suburban community, the figure went from $8,500 to $14,500 — 71 per cent."

Evidently appalled, Lewis leaves it at that, passing on to the other two "painful realities" with which any President will have to deal. You would make the following points.

Five years ago: The South American nation of Colombia was jolted by a severe earthquake.

One year ago: The U.S. Apollo 15 spacecraft went into orbit around the moon as preparations were made for a lunar landing.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Another educational opportunity has opened up in our district and parents of kindergarten children who do not take advantage of sending their 5-year-olds to kindergarten are depriving them of readiness activities which would enable them to do better work when they reach the first grade.

This is the first year that Westfall has offered the kindergarten program. Children will be provided transportation both ways under a new house bill just enacted, so please parents, take advantage of this new program.

Do the principal a favor and register your child today so it will give him ample time to assign the students to morning or afternoon classes. Do the first grade teacher a favor by giving your child the readiness activities he needs before starting first grade. Do yourself a favor by gaining self-satisfaction in knowing you are doing what is best for your child. Do your child a favor and give him the chance to learn necessary activities and to socialize with other children.

It won't cost you any tuition to send your child to kindergarten, IT IS FREE. So please, get your child registered and send him to kindergarten this fall. If you don't you are depriving your child of a very valuable educational opportunity and valuable readiness activities that only a qualified teacher can give him.

Register your child at Westfall High School and please, do it today. Your child will benefit from your action.

NEW YORK (AP) — Investment bankers who underwrite the public appearance of privately held companies—new issues, as they are called—are expected to exercise "due diligence" in examining the credentials of clients.

Whether or not they have been doing so is another thing. Certainly even the closest examination can't give complete assurance that what looks good today will be a star performer tomorrow.

But Securities and Exchange Commission figures suggest that in the past not all underwriters were diligent either in examining their young clients or in telling the public about them.

In a study of 49 new issues brought public between January, 1968, and July, 1969, the SEC said earlier this year, five were bankrupt, three out of business, six with liabilities exceeding assets, two merged because of money problems and 21 with retained earnings deficits.

Now the SEC is calling for stricter guidelines that some securities men say are unduly diligent in efforts to discourage a rash of hot issues, whose most identifiable characteristic is their peculiar rate of cooling.

The proposed requirements pertain mainly to the emerging company's registration statement, the document supposedly scrutinized by smart investors but which often is ignored.

Among the details proposed: —An estimate of how long proceeds will sustain the company. —Report on operating plans for a year. —Detailed information on competition. —Background of key employees.

While adverse comments already have been heard, other investment bankers appear hardly disturbed at all. "We're not concerned," said one, "because these guidelines already are covered in our due diligence reports."

What the SEC seemingly wants is for the details of the due diligence report itself to appear in the registration statement rather than for it merely to be the documentation for the broad statements now customarily used.

"Due diligence." The phrase keeps reappearing in any discussion of new issues. But what is it?

The question was put to Frank Brown, who appropriately enough heads Frank C. Brown & Co., a management consulting firm that during the past two years has prepared about 30 due diligence reports for underwriters.

Physically, he explained, his reports range from 35 to 110 pages and require the field work of four or five men for five to eight weeks. They cost the company—not the investment banker—from $7,500 to $25,000.

The investigation always includes an on-site check of facilities, an analysis of how the money is to be used, a study of financing, marketing, production and personnel, a discussion with key people "during which we also size them up," and opinions of the company by competitors and customers.

Much, much more is involved, and in great detail, such detail that one wonders if such a mass of information has any meaning at all to a no-expert, a doubt shared by Brown.

The due diligence report then becomes the basis of the registration statement that is filed with the SEC and which investors supposedly use to assess the value of the company.

The investment bankers must stand behind that registration statement which would, under present proposals, become far more detailed—including in fact, much of the due diligence report itself.

It could discourage a lot of hot issues.

SUNDAY'S HOROSCOPE
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A wonderful day for you to get new ideas and inspirations from a new source which attracts you but which you know very little about. You are able to expand your horizons far beyond their present boundaries and others can see you are a person of considerable worth.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Forget a rut you are in and go out with congenials for fun and relaxation. Make appointments with pals early in the morning. Show that you are an intellectual.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Important you stay at home and discuss important matters with those who live with you so that mutual affairs work out harmoniously. Do some entertaining and make a fine impression.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You are feeling affectionate and kind now so spread it around where it will be most appreciated. Talk over with good pals how you can become more effective in routine matters.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You now know how to add to your present abundance through new activities, so make your plans with the help of allies. Visit with good friends tonight if you feel hemmed in.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are able to find the right persons who can give you the information you want. A long-distance telephone call could be very helpful to you. Discuss an important matter with a friend.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Your intuition tells you how to make the most of your past experiences, especially if you get together with people who think in a modern way. Evening is fine for romance with mate.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are now able to get your views across with an associate if you permit a good friend to intervene who has the ability to persuade. Mutual projects can then work out successfully.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Handle work ahead of you in such a fine fashion that you make a big impression on a bigwig. Take time out to make plans for the future. Spend the evening with clever people.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can be highly inspired now and gain your aspirations if you attend the services of your choice. Later go out with person you admire and have a good time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Your home should be the focal point of your activity today so make plans for entertainment in advance. Study new methods that could make the future more prosperous for you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have many excellent ideas that should be discussed with friends today. Make plans for a trip in the near future. Go to bed early tonight so you can get a good start in the morning.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You can do much to improve the appearance of your home today and get favors you want from kin and others. A clever friend gives the fine ideas you need and want. Show your appreciation.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those young persons whose life is apt to be more fortunate than others. But it is important that you fit your progeny well for living by giving the finest education possible, then success can be possible. Teach to finish whatever has once been started. Give the benefit of sports, and bring out latent musical talent.

The value of penicillin is undeniable. Yet many physicians prescribe the antibiotic with a degree of concern about the possibility of an allergic reaction to this valuable antibiotic.

For some time, all kinds of tests have been tried to uncover unusual sensitivity to penicillin before it is used. Not all have been successful.

Dr. Bernard B. Levine, of the New York University School of Medicine, is part of a team that has developed new special skin-testing methods to determine sensitivity to penicillin.

The reagents that he is using are not yet available for general distribution. However, when his dramatic and successful studies are substantiated it is hoped that the Food and Drug Administration will make these reagents available to physicians everywhere.

One of the most exciting new vaccines to be developed has been an object of research for many decades.

Extensive field trials are now being made with an anti-pneumonia vaccine.

Dr. Robert Austrian, of the University School of Medicine in Philadelphia, has been engaged in active research for a vaccine that will prevent the still ever-present threat of pneumonia by the pneumococcus germ. He believes that within the next two or three years such a vaccine will prevent the devastation that this disease still causes.

Despite the fact that the antibiotics have reduced the mortality rate of pneumonia so markedly, it is still most imperative that prevention of pneumonia caused by the pneumococcal germ be given prime consideration.

A new test to uncover people who might be prone to having a stroke is being used at the Loma Linda University School of Medicine.

Dr. George Austin has been using a special radio isotope by painlessly injecting it into the bloodstream. The gamma ray activity of xenon-133 is then measured with a Geiger counter.

The flow of blood through the brain vessels can thus be measured. It is possible to show any unusual blockage of the arteries to the brain by this precise method.

The technique seems to hold considerable promise, based on more than 100 cases that have thus far been studied without unusual complication.

one of those great and reasonable persons who will become irked if others do not act in a similar fashion, so teach early that everyone is not the same and to make exceptions for shortcomings, but do not fail to encourage in own convictions, or your child could become discouraged quickly because of others. A remarkable chart that can reach the top with far less effort than most and have a very happy life, both personal and careerwise.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Everything has a guideline," said Lionel Hampton, the bandleader.

"Once we find that guideline, we have to adhere to it."

Religion and music have been the two guidelines of "The Hamp." Together they inspired him to rise from the bleak future of a black slum kid to recognition as "King of the Vibraharp" and one of the dominant figures in modern jazz.

They came to the musician's rescue last year when the crippling death of his wife of 35 years almost drove him into retirement.

"I idolized Gladys since the days we were childhood sweethearts," he said, at a luncheon here during his engagement at the Rainbow Grill.

"She was everything a woman could be to a man. She was my wife, my friend, my inspiration and my business manager. I could come to her with any problem, big or little.

"She set up things for me so well that I'll never have to go to a breadline whatever happens.

"When she died—her heart just blew out—it was like the end of the world. I didn't want to play another note. I just wanted to quit everything."

It was his daily reading of the Bible, Hampton said, that convinced him he should resume his life of "making a joyful sound for the Lord."

"I'm a great believer in the Bible. I get substance out of it. It is meaningful in my life.

Not too long ago when an elderly hotel chambermaid returned to Hampton an envelope containing $500 which he had carelessly left in his room, he was so impressed by her honesty that he hired her for life as his cook.

Hampton said he developed his marvelous sense of rhythm by beating with spoons on pots and pans as a child on a tenement floor. His first drumming lessons were given him by a nun at the Catholic school he attended.

"She rapped my knuckles when I started to give the beat with my left hand," he said.

Benny Goodman and Louis Armstrong helped him up the ladder when he was playing in sawdust-floored Los Angeles night spots at $3 a night. Later, Hampton and his band earned up to $10,000 for a single concert.

This year Hampton and his men, busier than ever, will make more than 200 appearances. And now, at 58, he can still play them into exhaustion.

Where does he get his tireless energy?

"Everyone should play from his heart and make a joyful noise for the Lord. Then he won't need stimulants. Spiritual values will give him all the strength he needs."

Tolls Don't Mix

The invention of a gadget for the automobile ignition system which prevents a drunk from starting the engine until he has sobered sufficiently to regain his reflexes was a stroke of genius. So apparently is the toll road — although not many motorists have looked upon one that way.

Figures compiled in Washington indicate toll roads are more than twice as safe as those which are free. Why this is so isn't explained, but there is at least one obvious explanation.

With drinking drivers involved in a large percentage of accidents nationally, including about half of those resulting in fatalities, any road system which tends to discourage use by the drunk is bound to have a better safety record.

Toll roads do that because there are manned toll booths to go through in most cases. Whether the men who man the booths are that observant or not, a driver who has to run the gauntlet after having too many nips under his belt apparently has the sensation that all eyes are upon him.

If there were some way to give him that same feeling along tollfree roads he might finally do what statistics have been warning him to do all along. Stay home.

Income Gap

By JEFFERY HART

In a recent time-piece in the New York Times, columnist Anthony Lewis listed three "painful realities with which any President will have to deal." As you might expect, one of them was the Vietnamese War. The second was the gap between rich and poor countries. The third was the income gap between urban blacks and suburban whites as exemplified for Mr. Lewis by the situation in and around Newark, N.J. It is on this third item that I wish to focus, for Lewis' attitude is certainly widespread — even though completely unjustified.

Census figures, he observes, have shown that between 1960 and 1970 suburban areas of predominantly white population increased their already large margin of affluence over black urban areas. In Newark, now a black-majority city, median family income rose from $5,451 to $7,735 during the decade — a gain of 42 per cent. In nearby Montclair, a mixed and not particularly rich suburban community, the figure went from $8,500 to $14,500 — 71 per cent.

Evidently appalled, Lewis leaves it at that, passing on to the other two "painful realities" with which any

President will have to deal. You gather that in his view the mere description of the Newark-suburb contrast is enough to establish it, without further comment, as an urgent problem, one high on the Federal agenda. And I have no doubt that many readers would agree with him almost automatically.

Serious urbanologists, however, would not. And they

MONDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A brilliant and unusual day in which everyone should feel on top of the world. You can put in action some interesting and important arrangement good for social and vocational expansion and popularity, which will bring happiness of a personal nature, also.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Discuss certain plans you have with mate and get the assistance and approval you want to make them successful. Good friends are helpful, also. Evening is excellent for that cultural pursuit that means much to you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You are very capable today and can take care of home and basic matters very well. Prove your intelligence, and put that clever plan to work that will help you reach cherished aims quickly.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Put new zip into new and old routines so all goes like clockwork, and show others you have a fine sense of humor. Help them cheer up. You can truly progress now as you have not been able to before.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have to think big for big achievements now, so be sure you get out of that peacynish routine. A bigwig you know will give you the ideas, advice you need. Avoid one who bickers, makes you feel nervous.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Plan what must be done with regard to those important social affairs that are coming up, as well as personal alliances. The planets are good, and everything works in your favor. Retire early and get a good rest tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Have lofty ideas and make right preparations for future happiness now. Get in touch with the one you love and the evening can be a happy, gala one. Dress your best.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Ideal day and p.m. to see individuals you admire; discuss business, personal or cultural matters. Get the facts you want. You can have the backing you need for pet projects.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get busy early with career activities and you can reach the top of your particular ladder soon. Talk over with an influential person how to express yourself better. Think.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Plan some time to become acquainted with those people who think big and are big and whose ideals are noble. They can help you become a more important and successful person. Listen carefully to what is being said.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Try to see those individuals who have the power to help you express yourself in public, social and personal avenues. Show romantic tie more devotion. The evening can be particularly delightful.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get your ideas whittled down to a far more practical size and talk the matters over with those you want allied with you in the future. Much success can come of this. Show you can be an excellent partner.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) A perfect day to make your surroundings far more charming through own efforts and clever ideas. See what you can do to make co-workers more cooperative. Try showing more kindness and consideration to everyone.

The question was put to Frank Brown, who appropriately enough heads Frank C. Brown & Co., a management consulting firm that during the past two years has prepared about 30 due diligence reports for underwriters.

Physically, he explained, his reports range from 35 to 110 pages and require the field work of four or five men for five to eight weeks. They cost the company—not the investment banker—from $7,500 to $25,000.

The investigation always includes an on-site check of facilities, an analysis of how the money is to be used, a study of financing, marketing, production and personnel, a discussion with key people "during which we also see them up," and opinions of the company by competitors and customers.

Much, much more is involved, and in great detail, such detail that one wonders if such a mass of information has any meaning at all to a no-expert, a doubt shared by Brown.

The due diligence report then becomes the basis of the registration statement that is filed with the SEC and which investors supposedly use to assess the value of the company.

The investment bankers must stand behind that registration statement which would, under present proposals, become far more detailed—including in fact, much of the due diligence report itself.

It could discourage a lot of hot issues.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Everything has a guideline," said Lionel Hampton, the bandleader. "Once we find that guideline, we have to adhere to it."

Religion and music have been the two guidelines of "The Hamp." Together they inspired him to rise from the bleak future of a black slum kid to recognition as "King of the Vibraharp" and one of the dominant figures in modern jazz.

They came to the musician's rescue last year when the crippling death of his wife of 35 years almost drove him into retirement.

"I idolized Gladys since the days we were childhood sweethearts," he said, at a luncheon here during his engagement at the Rainbow Grill.

"She was everything a woman could be to a man. She was my wife, my friend, my inspiration and my business manager. I could come to her with any problem, big or little.

"She set up things for me so well that I'll never have to go to a breadline whatever happens.

"When she died—her heart just blew out—it was like the end of the world. I didn't want to play another note. I just wanted to quit everything."

It was his daily reading of the Bible, Hampton said, that convinced him he should resume his life work of "making a joyful sound for the Lord.

"I'm a great believer in the Bible. I get substance out of it. It is meaningful in my life.

Not too long ago when an elderly hotel chambermaid returned to Hampton an envelope containing $500 which he had carelessly left in his room, he was so impressed by her honesty that he hired her for life as his cook.

Hampton said he developed his marvelous sense of rhythm by beating with spoons on pots and pans as a child on a tenement floor. His first drumming lessons were given him by a nun at the Catholic school he attended.

"She rapped my knuckles when I started to give the beat with my left hand," he said.

Benny Goodman and Louis Armstrong helped him up the ladder when he was playing in sawdust-floored Los Angeles night spots at $3 a night. Later, Hampton and his band earned up to $10,000 for a single concert.

This year Hampton and his men, busier than ever, will make more than 200 appearances. And now, at 58, he can still play them into exhaustion.

Where does he get his tireless energy?

"Everyone should play from his heart and make a joyful noise for the Lord. Then he won't need stimulants. Spiritual values will give him all the strength he needs."

Wallace Won't Go

To Bremer's Trial

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — An aide says that Gov. George C. Wallace has no plans to appear at the Maryland trial of the man accused of wounding him, Arthur H. Bremer.

Wallace's news secretary, Billy Joe Camp, said Thursday that the governor has received a subpoena that gives him the option of attending the trial but does not require it.

COFFEE, TEA AND CORNPLASTERS

There aren't many of us left who remember Sixbey's General Store. It was more than a store; it was a gathering place, a news bureau, a bright spot in a boy's summer afternoon.

You would come in from the hot dusty street, and the shaded store was cool. Immediately you encountered a tantalizing blend of scents—apples, licorice, spices and smoked ham. Grown-up conversation enhanced your feeling of excitement as they viewed and reviewed town happenings. You always took a long time to decide between a chocolate or a lemon drop, so that this exciting visit could be prolonged.

Our town has changed since then. For those of us whose memories linger in Sixbey's Store, it hardly seems the same place.

Yet one thing's the same. At the corner of Elm and Main, St. Mark's steeple still points skyward. Man's need for God never changes. And the Church remains constant as it teaches the truths of God's love and presence.

Miss Debra Ellen Hardman Bride Of Mickey W. Stump

MR. AND MRS. MICKEY W. STUMP

Miss Debra Ellen Hardman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Hardman, Route 1, Laurelville became the bride of Mr. Mickey W. Stump son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stump, Route 4, Circleville 7:30 p.m. July 14th at the Laurelville Church of God.

The Rev. Lynn Summers performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with an arch covered with greenery, white pompons, a pair of doves at the center and flanked by palms. Seven branch candelabra with lighted tapers and white satin bows on the pews completed the setting.

Music was provided by Mrs. Velma Hay of Ashville, organist and Mrs. Jo Ann Sellers of Columbus, vocalist.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. Escorted to the altar by her father, she was in a formal length gown fashioned with an empire bodice and slightly gathered skirt of organza over tulle. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with yellow sweetheart roses centering the cross arrangement. Her only jewelry was a diamond necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Maid of honor, Miss Carolyn Barr of Obetz was attired in an old fashioned floor length gown of lavender striped and flowered voile over satin with long sheer bishop sleeves, standup collar and a bow with the streamers extending to the floor. She wore a lavender picture hat and carried long stemmed yellow roses with blue streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Karen Hardman, Laurelville, sister of the bride and Miss Joyce Whaley of Circleville. They were dressed identically to the maid of honor in yellow and pink and carried long stemmed white roses with ribbon streamers.

Tammy and Kimberly Clifton of Adelphi, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Clifton, were flower girls. The bride's nieces wore full length gowns of yellow striped and flowered voile over satin with empire waists and brief sleeves. Satin bows were worn in their hair and they carried white baskets filled with rose petals.

Mr. Bryan R. Ruffe Jr., Circleville was best man. Ushers for their uncle were Mr. Jeff Whitcraft, South Bloomingville and Mr. Roger Valentine Jr., Laurelville.

Master Timothy Lynn Hardman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hardman of Circleville and a nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Candle lighters were Master Michael Hardman, brother of the bride and Master Rex Hardman, nephew of the bride.

Miss Peggy Neff of Chillicothe, a cousin of the bride, presided at the guest register.

A reception at the social hall of Laurelville High School, hosted by the parents of the bride, immediately followed the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Jeff Whitcraft, Mrs. Gary Hardman, Mrs. Larry Bell, Mrs. Bob Bower and Mrs. Benjamin LeMaster, who baked the cake for her sister.

The bride's table was centered with the four tiered cake with winding stairs leading to the top holding the bridal party and topped with the traditional bride and groom. Two heart-shaped cakes with the bride's name on one and the groom's name on the other flanked the wedding cake. Candelabra and greenery completed the table decorations.

As the couple left for a honeymoon in Florida, the bride wore a green knit dress with an empire waist, and puffed sleeves and white accessories. The new Mr. and Mrs. Stump now reside at Route 4, Circleville.

Pickaway Senior Center Fetes Member's Birthdays

The monthly all day social and business meeting of the Pickaway Senior Center members was held Thursday in the Trinity Lutheran Parish House. Sixty-one men and women enjoyed the day together.

During the lunch hour, all those having July birthdays were honored by being seated at a special table, cake was provided for the occasion and "Happy Birthday" was sung by the group. Members having July birthdays were: Dorothy Creager, Elva Scott, Margaret Ater, Christine Neff, Eloise Fee, Dagmar Meyer, Cliff Hedges, Leslie Hines, Vera Saunders, Vernon Saunders, Anna Gardner, Faye Mahaffey, Hazel Cline, Alice Seothorn, Ethel Fee, Pauline Kirkpatrick and Connie Howell. Alice Seothorn was celebrating her birthday on that day.

The president, John Miranda, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Louise Heine reported that a total of 34 people will be taking the bus tour to Greenfield Village and the Ford Museum on August 10th and 11th. Mrs. Joan Eller of the Center staff will be the tour guide. She announced also that the next bus trip to be taken will be Sept. 2nd to the Sate Fair. Members will be given the chance to sign up for this at the August 24th meeting. It was also decided to take a bus tour on Sept. 14th to Kings Island and later in September to Akron to tour Stan Hywet Hall and the Cathedral of Tomorrow. Details of these trips will be given at the August meeting.

Local members and their guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clifton (Joanne Hawkes), Dr. and Mrs. Robert McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mayberry, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Webb (Louise Bowsher), Mr. and Mrs. John Fissell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore (Faye Isaac), Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilkerson (Eleanor Hart), Mr. and Mrs. Donald Woodward (Jo Ann Rader), Mr. and Mrs. John Happeny Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jones (June Lanman).

Fred Howell announced that the card party held July 25th at the L-K banquet room was a financial success, and that a party would be held in the same location each month on the fourth Tuesday.

Mrs. Ethel Lane was appointed as social chairman, substituting for Mrs. Ruth Miranda.

The program for the day was planned by Mrs. Viola Hartman. Taking part in giving readings were Mrs. Pauline Pearce, Mrs. Ethel Hoover and Mrs. Hartranft, a vocal duet. "Life's Highway" was sung by Mrs. Pearce and Mrs. Hartranft accompanied on the piano by May Rhymer, and the entire group joined in the hymn sing to conclude the program.

The August meeting will feature entertainment by the Kitchen Band from the Chillicothe Senior Center, and after the program, those who care to will be taken on a tour of the Pickaway County Historical Museum at the corner of Union and Scioto streets. A small fee will be charged and a guide provided.

Tickets for the Ohio State Fair are now available for half price for those over age 55. These cannot be purchased in Columbus. If you plan to attend more than one day, a ticket will be necessary for each day. Tickets will be sold during the Pickaway County Fair in the Coliseum at the PICCA booth and in the Ankrom building at the Senior Center display table.

The State Fair tickets are also available in Tarlton from Viola Hartranft, in Ashville from Elda Behnke, in Williamsport from Eileen Easterday and in Stoutsville from Faye Fausnaugh.

Any members of the Center who will be willing to work in the Ankrom building during the County Fair or men who would help with parking cars, should call the Center immediately. Telephone is 474-4916.

No special activities will be scheduled but members may drop in during those hours to rest or visit or use the Center facilities.

Fred Howell announced that the card party held July 25th at the L-K banquet room was a financial success, and that a party would be held in the same location each month on the fourth Tuesday.

Mrs. Ethel Lane was appointed as social chairman, substituting for Mrs. Ruth Miranda.

The program for the day was planned by Mrs. Viola Hartman. Taking part in giving readings were Mrs. Pauline Pearce, Mrs. Ethel Hoover and Mrs. Hartman, a vocal duet. "Life's Highway" was sung by Mrs. Pearce and Mrs. Hartman accompanied on the piano by May Rhymer, and the entire group joined in the hymn sing to conclude the program.

The August meeting will feature entertainment by the Kitchen Band from the Chillicothe Senior Center, and after the program, those who care to will be taken on a tour of the Pickaway County Historical Museum at the corner of Union and Scioto streets. A small fee will be charged and a guide provided.

Tickets for the Ohio State Fair are now available for half price for those over age 55. These cannot be purchased in Columbus. If you plan to attend more than one day, a ticket will be necessary for each day. Tickets will be sold during the Pickaway County Fair in the Coliseum at the PICCA booth and in the Ankrom building at the Senior Center display table.

The State Fair tickets are also available in Tarlton from Viola Hartman, in Ashville from Elda Behnke, in Williamsport from Eileen Easterday and in Stoutsville from Faye Fausnaugh.

Any members of the Center who will be willing to work in the Ankrom building during the County Fair or men who would help with parking cars, should call the Center immediately. Telephone is 474-4916.

Religious Play Success 'Miracle'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
PALMYRA, N.Y. (AP) — From director to performers, they say they can't explain how it happens—except through God's help. The director, Dr. Harold I. Hansen, says he never talks about it to professional associates in the theater because they wouldn't believe him. "They'd think I was insane," he says.

Nevertheless, in just one week, he takes a swarm of 600 raw, inexperienced volunteers, sizes them up individually, assigns them roles, rehearses them and then opens public performances of a vast, masterful religious drama that draws thousands from across the country.

This is the big-scale, quick-time artistic feat of the Mormon pageant, "America's Witness to Christ," which this week had its 35th annual production here on Hill Comorah, its freshly recruited cast also a bit awed at how it works.

"It's a miracle," says Howard Rush, 18, of Columbus, Ohio, a first-time performer who plays a royal courtier.

"The Lord lends a hand," says Clinton E. Lunt, 72, a retired Army lieutenant colonel of Honolulu, who had never acted before. He plays a devout man who pleads in vain with a king to save a condemned prophet burned at the stake.

Hansen, 57, a white-haired drama professor at Brigham Young University, who specializes in Shakespeare and who recently directed a touring production of "Hello, Dolly!" for the Defense Department says various special factors contribute to, if not fully clarified, how the vast pageant here is put together so swiftly and effectively.

Cast members "don't see it as just performing but as personal commitment to religious concepts they believe in," he said in an interview. "I assure them, individually, that they'll be actively led. When they believe it when you say they can do it, that itself is a small miracle."

Beyond this, he added, there's help "from the 'Man Upstairs.'"

There's also the seasoned expertise of Hansen, who has run the production each summer for 35 years, plus the advance technological preparations of elaborate consoles controlling lighting effects, the three miles of precisely timed stereophonic sound, including dialogue, so that the performers have only to pantomime the scenes.

Aside from technical preparations, the whole job of casting, training the amateurs in gestures and movements, drilling them in mass action scenes, and coordinating the activity with sound and lights takes place in just seven days.

Hansen has each of the 600 cast members walk separately down a flight of stairs and across a stage, rating each for mannerisms of age, build, bearing, how the body moves, coding each trait and fitting the composite to various parts.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Courtesy Doesn't Change

DEAR ABBY: I realize that many young people have gone in for far out weddings, which is all right with me. But when they depart from the conventional "thank you" note for their wedding gifts, I think they are going too far.

Today I received what was supposed to be a "thank you" note for a wedding gift I sent to a young couple. (The bride was the daughter of dear friends, so I sent a very expensive silver coffee service.)

The acknowledgement was a folded piece of paper. On the front was "THANK YOU" commercially printed in gold letters. When I opened it there was a photograph's picture of the couple on one side, and a short poem on the other with the couple's name printed below. Abby, that was it! The bride did address the envelope by hand, which was the only personal touch.

I was appalled. I wouldn't have the nerve to say anything to the couple or to their parents but through you, Abby, I have been able to fume accordingly. Any comment? No name, please.

2 Copters Give Orphans Bright Day

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Forty children were delighted Thursday to skip the last class just before noon when two large troop-carrying Marine helicopters set down on the grounds of St. Joseph Orphanage.

"It was beautiful," said Sister Rose Martin S. C.

"It was a great diversion for the children and the Marines were wonderful to them."

The helicopters were two of four flying from Selfridge Air Base, Mount Clemens, Mich., to Atlanta, Ga.

One of the craft developed trouble with a shield on a rotary blade and set down on a playfield at the orphanage's sprawling grounds in northwestern Cincinnati. The second landed to aid in repairs.

"One of the Marine pilots in the second helicopter came up the hill to ask the children if they wanted to go through his plane," Sister Rose Martin recalled.

"He was so nice. I felt sorry for the poor man, though. The children asked him thousands of questions about everything in it."

Less than an hour later, repairs completed, the two craft resumed their flight south waving back at the dancing children on the lawn.

Wastes Can't Rot In Antarctic Climate

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (AP)—Environment-conscious New Zealanders are fighting pollution in Antarctica.

A high-temperature incinerator is to be installed in the year-end Antarctic summer at New Zealand's Scott Base to burn human waste and all trash.

Says the head of New Zealand's Antarctic program, Robert B. Thomson: "The disposal of trash in the Antarctic is an increasing problem. The cold, dry climate prevents any micro-biological or chemical action taking place; so no rotting of waste materials can occur."

STEER — Scott Harmount, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt Harmount, Route 1, Ashville, plans to enter his animal in the steer feeding class at the Pickaway County Fair. He is a member of the Walnut Porkers 4-H Club.

Ohio Agriculture Agency Blooms

By DAVID TOMLIN
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — In the past decade the Ohio Department of Agriculture has evolved from a tester of seeds, feeds and fertilizers for farmers into a "consumer secret service."

Gone are the days when the department's constituency was confined almost exclusively to farmers. The agency now expands an estimated 80 per cent of its efforts watching out for the interests of city dwellers.

The trend, says deputy director M. David Urmston, reflects the changing complexion of the General Assembly from the "old cornstalk brigade" to the present collection of city slickers.

"It's a whole different make-up," Urmston said. "They're urban oriented. They've heard the consumer complaints and they've asked the state to take action."

Urmston said the "sweeping reform" of the department's activities began in the 1960s and is still growing.

Urmston said the department currently employs 300 inspectors who examine everything from meat and milk to fruits and vegetables from the producer to the processor to supermarket.

"Most people feel we just sit here writing checks for farm subsidy programs," Urmston said. "That's the U.S. Department of Agriculture. We don't even handle that."

Urmston said the department runs what he called "a secret service surveillance for the consumer."

"We wouldn't want to call it a Gestapo operation," he said. "But we go into the grocery store to check facilities and we may never make ourselves known to the manager."

The consumer protection aspect of the department's activities have even carried the agency into spheres only marginally related to agriculture.

"We inspect and license bakeries and bottling plants," Urmston said. "And we've got responsibility for inspecting all rides and concessions at each of the state's 95 county and independent fairs."

Urmston said the department plans a further expansion of its consumer watchdog role.

He said director Eugene Abercrombie would ask for as many as 25 to 30 additional inspectors in its next budget request, and would propose that additional industries, for example candy manufacturing, be required to obtain department licenses.

Urmston said an increase in licensing fees would be sought to help pay for the expansion. "Some of them need to be adjusted. They're certainly out of line," he said.

Urmston said the department's increased attention to the consumer would not be at the expense of the farmers, but would simply be added to the department's traditional activities.

The departmental budget has grown from $1.8 million in fiscal 1962 to just over $4 million in the current fiscal year.

Orange Scooters Being Purchased By Cincy Police

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Police Chief Carl Goodin plans to have 40 policemen driving orange motor scooters by Labor Day, having satisfied himself that the experimental use of two scooters in the downtown area since 1969 has proved useful.

A total of 16 new scooters are currently being fitted for police use in all districts of the city.

Goodin said the scooters combine the mobility of police cruisers with the personal touch of the man walking the beat, only he can cover five times as much area.

The scooters were purchased at $374 each with a grant from the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA).

Report Many U.S. Firms Bumping Into Profit Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission says as many as one-fifth of the nation's companies may be bumping up against allowable profit margins this year, but that the agency will not relax its rules to bail out the businesses.

In fact, officials said, the commission will be more apt to tighten its rules governing profit margins of the nation's corporations.

What is likely to happen is that many companies will be forced to roll back prices voluntarily to make sure they don't exceed the profit-margin test by the end of the fiscal year.

Commission rules say that if a firm goes over its profit margin at the end of the fiscal year, it must reduce prices by three times the additional profit gain.

With the economy growing at a rapid pace, Price Commission officials believe that the number of companies increasing their profit margins will go up as well. This has led to speculation that the commission would consider relaxing the controls to prevent firms from going over the top.

"Generally speaking, the rumors that have been circulating indicating a relaxation of profit-margin controls are for the most part unfounded," said one

Staff member, "All of the alternatives we're working on now tend to tighten controls."

The commission's profit-margin test provides that companies cannot exceed the rate of profit garnered during the best two of the last three fiscal years.

But there is one exception—a firm that does not increase any prices at all can have an unlimited profit margin.

The commission is in the process of writing a regulation to allow any company which rolls back prices to the base-period level to increase profit margins as much as it wants as long as no future price of any item is increased.

Sheep (ish) Dog Fails To Protect

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ronald Lapia pulled his car up to a stoplight in downtown Baltimore. His large English sheepdog was sitting in back.

A man walked up. "Does the dog bite?" he asked.

Lapia, 30, said the dog did not.

The man pulled out a pistol, forced Lapia and the dog out of the car and sped off.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Beatrice Wallace, Edie Petty Lutz, Milt Emervine, C. C. Allen, July 30; Patrick Barthen, Dan Eitel, Terry Neff, July 31; Drew Wisecup, Ruth Snyder, Marvin Hastings, Scot Lahrmmer, Glyn Linville, Christy Justus, Aug. 1; John Scott Riddle, Elaine Clark, Patricia Leist, Downing, Rex Looney, Mary Lemaster, Gary Wisecup, Aug. 2; Margene Looney, Connie Drummond, Onda Fullen, Aug. 3; Ansel Driesbach, Debbie Thompson, Dianne Timmons, Cheryl Miller, Jodi Strama, Aug. 4.

It's anniversary time July 30 for Sue and John Eitel and on Aug. 5 Dorothy and Jay Seaburn will celebrate number twenty-five.

A recent weekend proved to be a busy and fun one for John and Sue Graffis, John Allen, Teresa and Chuck since on Friday evening they attended Sue's nephew's wedding at Lancaster; drove back to our town to "deposit" Chuck at the Easterday household for the remainder of the weekend and returned to Carroll to be with good friends Brownie and Rose Benson and their family until Monday evening. On Sunday they journeyed to Kings Island for picnicking and thrilling rides.

Senior Citizens

All those citizens age fifty-five and over who are planning to attend the Ohio State Fair are eligible to obtain tickets at half price which is a "doggone good" savings. Mrs. Lorentz of the Senior Citizens Center has requested that yours truly make available here in Williamsport the tickets for those wishing to purchase them and I am indeed happy to comply with the request. Any eligible person in our area - Williamsport, Alanta, New Holland, Five Points, Darbyville, Kinderhook, Woolly and so forth are encouraged to purchase the tickets from this "station". Sales will continue until Friday, Sept. 1 but the tickets are "good" for any day the fair is "running."

Sept. 2 is designated as Pickaway Co. Senior Citizens Day and a large contingent is expected to participate in the day's activities. At the gates near Eleventh Ave. are three events geared to senior citizen "funnies". One tent has free refreshments (for the seniors, that is). Don't forget to pur-

Grand Champion - rosette and $25 donated by South Central Power Company.

JUNIOR DIVISION (18 years and under)

First $2; second $1.50; third $1; honorable mention, ribbon. 1. Cakes (marked) (only one kind). First $1.50; second $1; third $1; honorable mention, ribbon. 2. Pies (marked) (only one kind). First $1; second $1; third $1; honorable mention, ribbon. 3. Cookies (marked) (only one kind) (4); 4. Yeast Bread and rolls (marked) (only one kind); 5. Quick breads (corn bread, gingerbread nut bread, biscuits, etc.) (only one kind). Grand champion rosette and $25 Savings Bond donated by First National Bank. Other Donors include Ashville Grain Company, Moore Store and Ward's Cardinal Market.

COMMISSIONER'S SPECIAL AWARD
The Pickaway County Commissioners will award a Grand Champion Plaque to the exhibitor winning the most points (1st - 4; 2nd - 3; 3rd - 2; 4th - 1) in Department 10. The award cannot be won again by the same exhibitor for six years.

Due to the lack of interest in some parts of the state the All-Ohio Electric Bake-A-Rama will not be held this year.

Our Carmen enjoyed meeting Dow West (who speaks fluent Spanish) and his guest (the name escapes me). Anyhow, the West guest (wow! twist that around) had just been in Mexico for several months and our Carmen and he enjoyed chatting, too.

The day I picked up the tickets from Mrs. Lorentz it was my decided pleasure to be taken by Mrs. L. on a tour of the Senior Citizen facilities. My goodness but they have a number of fascinating crafts and a great number of the items are for sale to the public, so keep that in mind when you are in need of a gift or prizes for card club, etc. The Center is opposite the fairgrounds.

Grandma B. (Agnes Brayshaw) who has been "winging" around the country for the past several weeks - first to Santa Cruz, Calif. and then to New Brighton, Pa., is expected to return home this weekend. She will be driven by her son Roy Brayshaw and his Katherine of New B. On her flight from California to Pittsburgh she had a bit of consternation when her luggage flew on to Boston but within a very short time it was returned to the proper destination.

Swim in the pool, cook-out and go to a drive-in movie was the exciting invitation received by Brenda Galloway and Amy Easterday from Sheryl Horch as the means of celebrating her seventh birthday last Saturday.

This offer proved to be more enticing for Brenda than a week end trip to Huntington, W. Va., with papa and mama Charlie and Ethel Galloway, sister Dena and grandpa Mrs. and Mrs. Harold Gilmore. The aforementioned latter visited with cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Bailey. Brenda overnighted with Amy after the movie Saturday.

On Wednesday the Galloway gals, Brenda and Dena, spent the night with their uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Michael Rayan and cousins at Columbus.

Thursday evening found Amy overnighting with Sheryl whose brother Kenny was off on a camping trip. Oh, boy! the social life of these youngsters get to be something else again, you know. Amy, by the way, is in a state of ecstasy because she lost two front teeth on Wednesday evening and since the tooth fairy didn't make it is because she is bringing so much loot she had to wait another night to haul it all. Now if any reader can deduce the logic in that reasoning - more power to you. It boggles my mind.

All the immediate members of the Lawrence and Dorothy Carle clan were home this past weekend. Tom came down from Cleveland with Miss Lauren Britt who is from Painesville; Dave and his Clarice were in from Medway; Janet drove down from Columbus; Donna, a recent graduate of Southern Ohio College and associated with Western and Southern Life Insurance Co. in Cincinnati will begin studies at Good Samaritan Hospital School of nursing on Aug. 26 was home, too, and Marty with her love Randy McCoy and their image (and the only Carle grandchild) Beth Ann of Atlanta community.

A number of area residents were down Laureville way on Saturday evening and enjoyed the Firemen's Festival and took pride as usual in the appearance of our Westfall band. I glimpsed Rose Evelyn McDill, the Paul Whitesides, Joe and Nellie Wright, Ruth Schleich and daughters, Jane Easter and girls, Carl and Wanda Hooks, Mary Jane Elliott and family as well as their son from Mexico City - young master Carlos Rodriguez, Marabel Drummond, Joy and Sandee, A. J. and Juanita Cook, Jeanne Metzger (Rick was in the band and Kristen with a drill team), Paul and Mary Alice Schein, Dick and Pick Everman, Loretta and Junior Keller (Lana was with the drill team and so was Shara Valentine) and quite likely several more that I didn't see.

Cars Collide At Derby Intersection

Kay Ellen Diamond, 30, Renick St., Derby, was taken to Mercy Hospital, Columbus, for treatment of neck injuries she suffered about 7 a.m. Friday when she drove her car in front of another auto at Clifton St. and 2nd St. in Derby. Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Jim Deal, who charged her with failure to yield the right of way, said she was driving east on Second St., apparently stopped at the intersection of Clifton St., and then pulled into the path of a car driven by Richard Brayshaw, 21, Williamsport.

Brayshaw was treated at Berger Hospital's emergency room for right leg injuries.

His car, which knocked the Diamond auto 112 feet at impact, skidded 20 feet after the collision.

Bra-Burners Rapped

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) - Helen Delich Bentley, the first woman to serve as chairman of the Federal Maritime Commission, says bra-burning feminists are harming the women's rights movement and alienating those who support it.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Beatrice Wallace, Edie Petty Lutz, Milt Emervine, C. C. Allen, July 30; Patrick Barthen, Dan Eitel, Terry Neff, July 31; Drew Wisecup, Ruth Snyder, Marvin Hastings, Scot Lahmer, Glyn Linville, Christy Justus, Aug. 1; John Scott Riddle, Elaine Clark, Patricia Leist Downing, Rex Looney, Mary Lemaster, Gary Wisecup, Aug. 2; Margene Looney, Connie Drummond, Onda Fullen, Aug. 3; Ansel Driesbach, Debbie Thompson, Dianne Timmons, Cheryl Miller, Jodi Strama, Aug. 4.

It's anniversary time July 30 for Sue and John Eitel and on Aug. 5 Dorothy and Jay Seaburn will celebrate number twenty-five.

A recent weekend proved to be a busy and fun one for John and Sue Gaffis, John Allen, Teresa and Chuck since on Friday evening they attended Sue's nephew's wedding at Lancaster; drove back to our town to "deposit" Chuck at the Easterday household for the remainder of the weekend and returned to Carroll to be with good friends Brownie and Rose Benson and their family until Monday evening. On Sunday they journeyed to Kings Island for picnicking and thrilling rides.

Senior Citizens

All those citizens age fifty-five and over who are planning to attend the Ohio State Fair are eligible to obtain tickets at half price which is a "doggone good" savings. Mrs. Lorentz of the Senior Citizens Center has requested that yours truly make available here in Williamsport the tickets for those wishing to purchase them and I am indeed happy to comply with the request. Any eligible person in our area — Williamsport, Alanta, New Holland, Five Points, Darbyville, Kinderhook, Woodlyn and so forth are encouraged to purchase the tickets from this "station". Sales will continue until Friday, Sept. 1 but the tickets are "good" for any day the fair is "running".

Sept. 2 is designated as Pickaway Co. Senior Citizens Day and a large contingent is expected to participate in the day's activities. At the gates near Eleventh Ave. are three events geared to senior citizen "funnies". One tent has free refreshments (for the seniors, that is). Don't forget to purchase your ticket for half price and that must be done before you reach the fair gates because they do not sell the half price admission.

The day I picked up the tickets from Mrs. Lorentz it was my decided pleasure to be taken by Mrs. L. on a tour of the Senior Citizen facilities. My goodness but they have a number of fascinating crafts and a great number of the items are for sale to the public, so keep that in mind when you are in need of a gift or prizes for card club, etc. The Center is opposite the fairgrounds.

GRANDMA B. (Agnes Brayshaw) who has been "winging" around the country for the past several weeks — first to Santa Cruz, Calif. and then to New Brighton, Pa., is expected to return home this weekend. She will be driven by her son Roy Brayshaw and his Katherine of New B. On her flight from California to Pittsburgh she had a bit of consternation when her luggage flew on to Boston but within a very short time it was returned to the proper destination.

Swim in the pool, cook-out and go to a drive-in movie was the exciting invitation received by Brenda Galloway and Amy Easterday from Sheryl Horch as the means of celebrating her seventh birthday last Saturday.

This offer proved to be more enticing for Brenda than a week end trip to Huntington, W. Va., with papa and mama Charlie and Ethel Galloway, sister Dena and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gilmore.

The aforementioned latter visited with cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Bailey. Brenda overnighted with Amy after the movie Saturday.

On Wednesday the Galloway gals, Brenda and Dena, spent the night with their uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Michael Rayan and cousins at Columbus.

Thursday evening found Amy overnighting with Sheryl whose brother Kenny was off on a camping trip. Oh, boy! the social life of these youngsters get to be something else again, you know. Amy, by the way, is in a state of ecstasy because she lost two front teeth on Wednesday evening and since the tooth fairy didn't make it is because she is bringing so much loot she had to wait another night to haul it all. Now if any reader can deduce the logic in that reasoning — more power to you. It boggles my mind.

All the immediate members of the Lawrence and Dorothy Carle clan were home this past weekend. Tom came down from Cleveland with Miss Lauren Britt who is from Painesville; Dave and his Clarice were in from Medway; Janet drove down from Columbus; Donna, a recent graduate of Southern Ohio College and associated with Western and Southern Life Insurance Co. in Cincinnati will begin studies at Good Samaritan Hospital School of nursing on Aug. 26 was home, too, and Marty with her love Randy McCoy and their image (and the only Carle grandchild) Beth Ann of Atlanta community.

A number of area residents were down Laureville way on Saturday evening and enjoyed the Firemen's Festival and took pride as usual in the appearance of our Westfall band. I glimpsed Rose Evelyn McDill, the Paul Whitesides, Joe and Nellie Wright, Ruth Schleich and daughters, Jane Easter and girls, Carl and Wanda Hooks, Mary Jane Elliott and family as well as their son from Mexico City — young master Carlos Rodriguez, Marabel Drummond, Joy and Sandee, A. J. and Juanita Cook, Jeanne Metzger (Rick was in the band and Kristen with a drill team), Paul and Mary Alice Schein, Dick and Pick Everman, Loretta and Junior Keller (Lana was with the drill team and so was Shara Valentine) and quite likely several more that I didn't see.

Mr. Carmen enjoyed meeting Dow West (who speaks fluent Spanish) and his guest (the name escapes me). Anyhow, the West guest (wow! twist that around) had just been in Mexico for several months and our Carmen and he enjoyed chatting, too.

For all those interested in our Fernando we have had long letters from both he and his mother. Unhappily Fernando became quite ill upon his return to Ecuador attributed according to the letters on his tremendous loneliness for his United States family and the change in attitude. Needless to say, it really tore us up. Fernando said in his letter that he needed so much to hear our voices and we have been taping a cassette to send him but have you ever tried to "fill up" an hour of time? Fortunately, we are on the number two side and should be finished shortly. We plan to send a tape periodically to our son so if there is anyone who wishes to be a part of it just give us the word.

A few days ago, Pam Williams, Cindy Beatty, Janet and Cindy Schleich stopped in to meet Camen and they each sent a message to Fernando that I am sure will please him so much when he hears it.

Our good friend John Steinhauer, who suffered a heart attack several days ago, remains a patient at Mt. Carmel Hospital, Room 310 and all his many friends are hopeful for a complete recovery. The sooner the better, too. The Steinhauers had planned to jet out Saturday for a "dream" trip to England and visiting friends John had made during with W. W. II days. The most unfortunate circumstances happens to the nicest people, it seems.

One last reminder for all those who will be working in the Westfall Booster food booth at the Pickaway County fair to obtain their TB TESTS pronto! This is an absolute MUST. Do not be denied the privilege and pleasure of being involved because you failed to get the essential TB TESTS. Remember, too, that anyone interested in helping is most welcome. You need not be a dues paid Booster member or a director — the main criteria is to have a desire to contribute your helping hand and it is a well known fact it takes many helping hands. Booster chairman is Dale Smith, 986-2184.

Think about: The individual is responsible for what happens in the future no matter what has happened in the past and as long as people are bound by the past they are not free to respond to the needs and aspirations of others in the present.

Cars Collide At Derby Intersection

Kay Ellen Diamond, 30, Renick St., Derby, was taken to Mercy Hospital, Columbus, for treatment of neck injuries
she suffered about 7 a.m.
Friday when she drove her car in front of another auto at Clifton St. and 2nd St. in Derby.

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Jim Deal, who charged her with failure to yield the right of way, said she was driving east on Second St., apparently stopped at the intersection of Clifton St., and then pulled into the path of a car driven by Richard Bray-shaw, 21, Williamsport.

Brayshaw was treated at Berger Hospital's emergency room for right leg injuries.

His car, which knocked the Diamond auto 112 feet at impact, skidded 20 feet after the collision.

Hills, Barnhills Capture Frays

Hill Implement and Barnhill's were the winners of the two Mosquito league games played Friday evening.

Hill Implement easily won over Mac's Goodyear, 15-4, on diamond No. 1 at the fairgrounds.

Brian Davis was the feature pitcher for Hill's giving up five hits, walking four and fanning 14.

Larry Pennington was the big hitter for the Hill squad slamming a homerun and a couple singles, Ricky Speakman hit a triple, a double and a single, Tim Woods slugged a pair of triples and a double, Brian Davis hit a triple and two singles, and Mark Gerhardt had two doubles.

BRAD Fox was on the hill for Mac's permitting 13 hits, walking nine and striking out ten.

Fox cracked a triple and a single for the Goodyear team, Kevin Mays hit a double and Mike Lundberg hit a pair of one baggers.

Barnhill's romped over FOPA; 20-7 in the other

Mosquito league game with Jeff Bloomfield, Rod Bumgarner, and Bob Brown each taking a turn on the mound.

The pitching trio gave up six hits, walked seven and whiffed 11.

Kelly Robinson and T. D. VanCamp were hurling the ball for FOPA, allowing 24 hits, walking 12 and striking out four.

Rod Bumgarner was batting 6 for 6 at the plate with a homerun, a triple, a double and three singles, Mark Tacy hit a homer, Jeff Bloomfield had a homerun, Brad Fisher rapped a triple, two doubles and two singles, Bob Brown a pair of doubles and three singles, Terrence Berrigan a single and a double, Kevin Sowers had a double and Andy Hedges hit a single for the Barnhill team.

DARRIN Camp hit a homerun and a single for FOPA while Kelly Robinson got off a couple singles and Fred Styers and T. D. VanCamp each singled.

Barnhill's has a league record of 11-1, Hill Implement is 11-2, FOPA stands 2-10 and Mac's is 5-6.

Cowboys Easily Stop All-Star Threat

CHICAGO (AP) — Backup quarterback Craig Morton got in early and had time to do his thing. Backup quarterback Pat Sullivan got in late and his thing was to no avail.

That was the story of the 39th annual College All-Star game Friday night as Morton led the world champion Dallas Cowboys to a 20-7 win over an All-Star team that was better than expected on defense but listless on offense. It was the ninth straight victory for the pros over the collegians.

Morton entered the game when Roger Staubach was shaken up late in the first half and tossed two touchdown passes. Sullivan, the Heisman Trophy winner, entered the game in the final quarter and led the Stars to their only touchdown.

Sullivan's performance—he completed eight of 15 passes for 64 yards—raised a question. Why didn't Nebraska Coach Bob Devaney insert him earlier to replace ex-Nebraska star Jerry Tagge, who couldn't get the Stars moving for three quarters? Devaney said he thought Tagge could move the team. He said he thought the key play was a fumble by Tagge early in the third quarter with the Cowboys holding a 10-0 lead.

Tagge was rolling right when the ball seemed to slip from his hand. He kicked it toward the sidelines, and Dallas' Bob Lilly fell on it at the Star 41. Four plays later, Morton tossed 24 yards to Bob Hayes, clear over the middle, and it was 17-0.

Morton had entered the game with six minutes left in the half after Staubach was sandwiched among three All-Stars as he ran for a first down in the Stars 18-yard line. He threw one incomplete pass, then hit Ron Sellers, newly acquired from the New England Patriots, in the right corner of the end zone for the score.

The other Cowboy scores came off a 30-yard first-quarter field goal by Mike Clark and a 33-yarder on the first play of the fourth quarter by Austrian soccer-style kicker Toni Fritsch.

When Sullivan entered the game down 20-0, he promptly moved the Stars 80 yards in 16 plays. The key plays were a 30-yard burst by Robert Newhouse of Houston, who becomes a Cowboy today, and a 13-yard fourth-down pass from Sullivan to Villanova's Mike Siani that put the ball on the one-yard line. Newhouse plunged over from there.

The high spot for the All-Stars was the play of the defense, led by LSU's Tommy Casanova, who roamed all over the secondary, batting down passes, harassing receivers, and making tackles.

Other defensive standouts for the All-Stars included backs Tom Darden of Michigan, Tom Myers of Syracuse and Willie Buchanan of San Diego State; linebackers Jeff Siemon of Stanford and Mike Keller of Michigan, and lineman Sherman White of California. Pete Lazulich of Stanford, John Mendenhall of Grambling and Larry Jacobson of Nebraska.

Veterans Start Cincy Bengals Annual Scrimmage

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Cincinnati Bengals Coach Paul Brown planned to take a good look at everybody—veterans as well as rookies—in the team's annual scrimmage here today.

"There won't be a rookie on either of the starting offensive or defensive units," Brown said Friday, but added that the scrimmage will probably be more important for rookies trying to earn a spot on the team.

"Everybody was a little edgy and looking forward to the scrimmage," Brown said after the Bengals went through their final session of two-day workouts.

About 12,000 people were expected to watch the scrimmage which was figured to last about an hour or however long 40 plays would take.

The starters on offense were slated to be Rufus Mayes, Steve Lawson, Bob Johnson, Howard Fest, and Pat Matson on the line with Bob rumpy and Bruce Coslet as double tight ends; Virgil Carter at quarterback; and Essex Johnson and Fred Willis as running backs and Chip Myers at flanker in the two running-back set-up.

The Bengals also planned to use a "fullhouse T" offense with the quarterback and three running backs.

On defense, the starters were scheduled to be Ron Carpenter, Jones and Royce Berry on the line; Doug Adams, Bill Bergey and Bill Peterson at linebackers; Ken Riley and Fletcher Smith at cornerbacks; Sandy Durko at free safety and Neil Craig at strong safety.

Tackle Mike Reid, with a sore knee, linebacker Ken Avery, with a bruised leg muscle, and Lemar Parrish, with a sprained ankle, were not expected to play.

The Bengals said they would have defensive end Sherman White, defensive back Tommy Casanova and center Tom DeLeone back from Chicago where the three were Friday night for the Dallas Cowboys' College All-Star game.

White was the Bengals' first draft choice this year, Casanova second and DeLeone fifth. None of the three was expected to play in the scrimmage.

The Bengals will hold only one practice session a day beginning Monday. They play their first exhibition game in Green Bay Aug. 5 against the Packers.

Piranha Club Swamps G-M Swim Team

Circleville Piranha coaches utilized their reserve swimmers in over 50 per cent of the events but still scored their biggest victory of the season with a 383-163 win over the Groveport-Madison Swim Club in a Mt. Pleasant League meet.

The Piranhas captured 16 of 18 relay events and 32 of 46 individual events for their fourth successive win of the year.

Jeff Davies, Roanne Bowers, Steve Penn, Janice Meschke, Kelly England, Dave Resler, Cindy Hughes, Cindy Sparks and Lisa Lintner were all double individual winners.

Jay Arledge, Lavonna Weaver, Linda Davies, Rock Huggins, Cathy Sill, Jona Duval, John Whately, Kelly Steele, March Hutchison, Jeff Lackey, Nancy Guenther, Mark Beck and Brent Smith were single individual winners.

Columbus Hilltop has forfeited its scheduled meet with the Piranhas to give the locals a 5-0 record.

Circleville will hold its last meet Thursday when the Chillicothe Country Club team comes to Roundown.

The Piranhas will compete in the Mt. Pleasant Championship Aug. 6 at the Tiki Pool in Lancaster.

Circleville Swim Club will hold its annual awards banquet, a carry in dinner, 6 p.m. Aug. 9 at Ted Lewis Park.

Flower Child Wins Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Flower Child trotted the mile in 2:00 3-5 to win the featured race at Scioto Downs Friday night and return $3.60, $2.60 and $2.40.

Latest Record paid $4.40 and $2.80 for second and Hassie Blaze $3.60 for show.

The 7-5 daily double combination of Billie Barrett and Masquerader Belle was worth $50.80, and the 1-5 quinella $12.60.

Attendance was 6,389; handle $323,496.

Roberts And Kirby Shine As Padres Stop Reds, 3-1

CINCINNATI (AP)—Patience is paying off for rookie third basemen Dave Roberts and four-year veteran Clay Kirby.

Roberts, who quit college earlier this year for a shot at professional baseball, hit the second homer of his short career and Kirby picked up his first victory in four weeks Friday night as San Diego downed red-hot Cincinnati 3-1.

"I tried not to be discouraged," Roberts said in comparing his .250 plus average now to the .190 mark he had after a few games with the Padres. "My attitude is that what will happen, will happen. Not that I mean I don't care, I am simply trying to find myself."

Roberts clubbed the homer in the fifth inning to provide insurance for Kirby who checked the Reds on five hits. Roberts delivered what proved to be the game-winning run with a single in the second inning.

"All I can say is that I had a little bit of luck on my hitting tonight," Roberts said, pointing out that the single was a blooper to left field. "I've been pulling away from the ball. I really only hit one ball tonight—the homer."

Kirby, who holds a 10-7 lifetime edge over the Reds, yielded only an eighth inning homer to Pete Rose. Despite his record against the Reds, it was his first victory in three decisions against them this year.

Hiking his mark to 7-11, Kirby said. "I know I can pitch and there is only one way to get out of a slump—that is to keep on trying."

"I haven't been pitching well the last four or five games but I seem to have gotten back breaks when I did pitch well. I was determined to win at any cost tonight."

Kirby said he relied heavily on his fast ball and also tried using a "big slider" for the first time in two years. He explained that the "big slider" is a little slower and breaks more than his "little slider."

San Diego manager Don Zimmer attributed part of Kirby's success Friday night to his fielding.

"One of his big failings in the

Kochheiser, VFW Cop Pony League Tilts

Kochheiser and VFW were winners of the two Pony League games played Friday evening.

Kochheiser doubled Third National's score and won 12-6 using Riley Rose and Bob Fuller on the mound.

The two moundsmen gave up five hits, walked nine and struck out ten.

Allen Dray was the big hitter for the Hardware nine with a triple and two singles, Riley Rose and Rocky Dean each hit a triple and a single, Bob Fuller and Andy Smith each got a double and a single, Brian Augustine hit a pair of singles and Rick Lattimer popped a one-bagger.

GARY Wolford, Brad Allison and Herb Lutz were all on the hill for Third National, allowing 14 hits, walk six and struckout three.

Greg Wolford hit a pair of singles for the Bankers as Brad Allison, Herb Lutz, Jerry Strawser all had singles.

The Kochheiser squad stands 6-5 in the Pony League while Third National is 3-7.

VFW topped Burger Chesf, 9-4, using Randy Hoop on the hill. Hoop gave up four hits, walked two and fanned seven.

Scott Barthelmas slugged a couple triples and a single, Frank Merrill hit a triple and two singles, Tim Housh had a pair of singles and Doug McGlone, Bruce DeBruin, Dan Fausnaugh and Tom Farynowski all singled for the winners.

DAVE Phillips was taking the mound duties for Burger Chef, allowing 12 hits, walking six and striking out four.

Keith Sanders popped a double and a single for the Chef's and Tim Hartinger and Dave Phillips each singled.

VFW now has a season record of 6-5 and Burger stands at 2-8.

Kochheiser, VFW Cop Pony League Tilts

Kochheiser and VFW were winners after the two Pony League games played Friday evening.

Kochheiser doubled Third National's score and won 12-6 using Riley Rose and Bob Fuller on the mound.

The two moundsmen gave up five hits, walked nine and struck out ten.

Allen Dray was the big hitter for the Hardware nine with a triple and two singles, Riley Rose and Rocky Dean each hit a triple and a single, Bob Fuller and Andy Smith each got a double and a single, Brian Augustine hit a pair of singles and Rick Lattimer popped a one-bagger.

GARY Wolford, Brad Allison and Herb Lutz were all on the hill for Third National, allowing 14 hits, walk six and struckout three.

Greg Wolford hit a pair of singles for the Bankers as Brad Allison, Herb Lutz, Jerry Strawser all had singles.

The Kochheiser squad stands 6-5 in the Pony League while Third National is 3-7.

VFW topped Burger Chef, 9-4, using Randy Hoop on the hill. Hoop gave up four hits, walked two and fanned seven.

Scott Barthelmas slugged a couple triples and a single, Frank Merrill hit a triple and two singles, Tim Housh had a pair of singles and Doug McGlone, Bruce DeBruin, Dan Fausnaugh and Tom Farynowski all singled for the winners.

DAVE Phillips was taking the mound duties for Burger Chef, allowing 12 hits, walking six and striking out four.

Keith Sanders popped a double and a single for the Chef's and Tim Hartinger and Dave Phillips each singled.

VFW now has a season record of 6-5 and Burger stands at 2-8.

Cowboys Easily Stop All-Star Threat

CHICAGO (AP) — Backup quarterback Craig Morton got in early and had time to do his thing. Backup quarterback Pat Sullivan got in late and his thing was to no avail.

That was the story of the 39th annual College All-Star game Friday night as Morton led the world champion Dallas Cowboys to a 20-7 win over an All-Star team that was better than expected on defense but listless on offense. It was the ninth straight victory for the pros over the collegians.

Morton entered the game when Roger Staubach was shaken up late in the first half and tossed two touchdown passes. Sullivan, the Heisman Trophy winner, entered the game in the final quarter and led the Stars to their only touchdown.

Sullivan's performance—he completed eight of 15 passes for 64 yards—raised a question. Why didn't Nebraska Coach Bob Devaney insert him earlier to replace ex-Nebraska star Jerry Tagge, who couldn't get the Stars moving for three quarters? Devaney said he thought Tagge could move the team. He said he thought the key play was a fumble by Tagge early in the third quarter with the Cowboys holding a 10-0 lead.

Tagge was rolling right when the ball seemed to slip from his hand. He kicked it toward the sidelines, and Dallas' Bob Lilly fell on it at the Star 41. Four plays later, Morton tossed 24 yards to Bob Hayes, clear over the middle, and it was 17-0.

Morton had entered the game with six minutes left in the half after Staubach was sandwiched among three All-Stars as he ran for a first down at the Stars 18-yard line. He threw one incomplete pass, then hit Ron Sellers, newly acquired from the New England Patriots, in the right corner of the end zone for the score.

The other Cowboy scores came off a 30-yard first-quarter field goal by Mike Clark and a 33-yarder on the first play of the fourth quarter by Austrian soccer-style kicker Toni Fritsch.

When Sullivan entered the game down 20-0, he promptly moved the Stars 80 yards in 15 plays. The key plays were a 30-yard burst by Robert Newhouse of Houston, who becomes a Cowboy today, and a 13-yard fourth-down pass from Sullivan to Villanova's Mike Siani that put the ball on the one-yard line. Newhouse plunged over from there.

The high spot for the All-Stars was the play of the defense, led by LSU's Tommy Casanova, who roamed all over the secondary, batting down passes, harassing receivers, and making tackles.

Other defensive standouts for the All-Stars included backs Tom Darden of Michigan, Tom Myers of Syracuse and Willie Buchanan of San Diego State; linebackers Jeff Sienon of Stanford and Mike Keller of Michigan; and linemen Sherman White of California, Pete Lazetich of Stanford, John Mendenhall of Grambling and Larry Jacobson of Nebraska.

Veterans Start Cincy Bengals Annual Scrimmage

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Cincinnati Bengals Coach Paul Brown planned to take a good look at everybody—veterans as well as rookies—in the team's annual scrimmage here today.

"There won't be a rookie on either of the starting offense or defensive units," Brown said Friday, but added that the scrimmage will probably be more important for rookies trying to earn a spot on the team.

"Everybody was a little edgy and looking forward to the scrimmage," Brown said after the Bengals went through their final session of two-day workouts.

About 12,000 people were expected to watch the scrimmage which was figured to last about an hour or however long 40 plays would take.

The starters on offense were slated to be Rufus Mayes, Steve Lawson, Bob Johnson, Howard Felt, and Pat Matson on the line with Bob rumpy and Bruce Coslet as double tight ends; Virgil Carter at quarterback; and Essex Johnson and Fred Willis as running backs and Chip Myers at flanker in the two running-back setup.

The Bengals also planned to use a "fullhouse T" offense with the quarterback and three running backs.

On defense, the starters were scheduled to be Ron Carpenter, Jones and Royce Berry on the line; Doug Adams, Bill Bergey and Bill Peterson at linebackers; Ken Riley and Fletcher Smith at cornerbacks; Sandy Durko at free safety and Neil Craig at strong safety.

Tackle Mike Reid, with a sore knee, linebacker Ken Avery, with a bruised leg muscle, and Lemar Parrish, with a sprained ankle, were not expected to play.

The Bengals said they would have defensive end Sherman White, defensive back Tommy Casanova and center Tom DeLeone back from Chicago where the three were Friday night for the Dallas Cowboys-College All-Star game.

White was the Bengals' first draft choice this year, Casanova second and DeLeone fifth. None of the three was expected to play in the scrimmage.

The Bengals will hold only one practice session a day beginning Monday. They play their first exhibition game in Green Bay Aug. 5 against the Packers.

Piranha Club Swamps G-M Swim Team

Circleville Piranha coaches utilized their reserve swimmers in over 50 per cent of the events but still scored their biggest victory of the season with a 383-163 win over the Groveport-Madison Swim Club in a Mt. Pleasant League meet.

The Piranhas captured 16 of 18 relay events and 32 of 46 individual events for their fourth successive win of the year.

Jeff Davies, Roanne Bowers, Steve Penn, Janice Meschke, Kelly England, Dave Resler, Cindy Hughes, Cindy Sparks and Lisa Lintner were all double individual winners.

Jay Arledge, Lavonna Weaver, Linda Davies, Rock Huggins, Cathy Sill, Jona Duval, John Whatley, Kelly Steele, March Hutchison, Jeff Lackey, Nancy Guenther, Mark Beck and Brent Smith were single individual winners.

Columbus Hilltop has forfeited its scheduled meet with the Piranhas to give the locals a 5-0 record.

Circleville will hold its last meet Thursday when the Chillicothe Country Club team comes to Roundown.

The Piranhas will compete in the Mt. Pleasant Championship Aug. 6 at the Tiki Pool in Lancaster.

Circleville Swim Club will hold its annual awards banquet, a carry in dinner, 6 p.m. Aug. 9 at Ted Lewis Park.

Flower Child Wins Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Flower Child trotted the mile in 2:00 3-5 to win the featured race at Scioto Downs Friday night and return $3.60, $2.60 and $2.40.

Latest Record paid $4.40 and $2.80 for second and Hassie Blaze $3.60 for show.

The 7-5 daily double combination of Billie Barrett and Masquerader Belle was worth $50.80, and the 1-5 quinella $12.60.

Attendance was 6,389; handle $323,496.

Roberts And Kirby Shine As Padres Stop Reds, 3-1

CINCINNATI (AP)—Patience is paying off for rookie third basemen Dave Roberts and four-year veteran Clay Kirby.

Roberts, who quit college earlier this year for a shot at professional baseball, hit the second homer of his short career and Kirby picked up his first victory in four weeks Friday night as San Diego downed red-hot Cincinnati 3-1.

"I tried not to be discouraged," Roberts said in comparing his .250 plus average now to the .190 mark he had after a few games with the Padres. "My attitude is that what will happen, will happen. Not that I mean I don't care, I am simply trying to find myself."

Roberts clubbed the homer in the fifth inning to provide insurance for Kirby who checked the Reds on five hits. Roberts delivered what proved to be the game-winning run with a single in the second inning.

"All I can say is that I had a little bit of luck on my hitting tonight," Roberts said, pointing out that the single was a blooper to left field. "I've been pulling away from the ball. I really only hit one ball tonight—the homer."

Kirby, who holds a 10-7 lifetime edge over the Reds, yielded only an eighth inning homer to Pete Rose. Despite his record against the Reds, it was his first victory in three decisions against them this year.

Hiking his mark to 7-11, Kirby said, "I know I can pitch and there is only one way to get out of a slump—that is to keep on trying."

"I haven't been pitching well the last four or five games but I seem to have gotten back breaks when I did pitch well. I was determined to win at any cost tonight."

Kirby said he relied heavily on his fast ball and also tried using a "big slider" for the first time in two years. He explained that the "big slider" is a little slower and breaks more than his "little slider."

San Diego manager Don Zimmer attributed part of Kirby's success Friday night to his fielding.

"One of his big failings in the last few games has been his careless fielding," Zimmer said, adding that the team's coaching staff got Kirby out Wednesday morning, a day before the Padres Reds series opened, and had him go through special fielding drills.

"He hasn't been getting off the mound the way he should, but he did a beautiful job of that and covering first base tonight."

The two teams play the final contest in their three-game series tonight.

Post 757 Loses In AL Tourney

Chillicothe Post 757 dropped two games and was eliminated in the American Legion District 7 Tournament at Hillsboro.

Hillsboro downed Post 757, 9-3, in the finals of the winners bracket and Portsmouth unseeded the Chillicothe team, 10-4, in the finals of the losers bracket.

Tom Taylor and Rock Davis each connected for a double and single in the losing effort against Hillsboro.

Dave Truex hurled one and two-third innings in relief against Portsmouth. He allowed two hits, one walk and didn't give up a run.

Davis slammed a homerun, Truex rapped a double and single and Taylor slashed a one-bagger for the losers.

Savings Bank Wins Minor Crown; IOOF Edges Rotary

Savings Bank edged Blue Ribbon Dairy, 6-4, and IOOF tripped Rotary, 9-7, in Little League Minor action Friday.

The win gave the Bankers the league championship.

Dave McKinney and Rob Sark combined to hurl the win for the Bankers. They gave up seven hits, walked two and struckout 13.

Jeff Rase went all the way for the Dairyemen, allowing seven hits, walking three and fanning five.

Tracy Wagner led the Bankers plate attack with a triple and double, Kevin Roan slammed a three-bagger while Sark, Bob Nolan, McKinney and Larry Brown rapped a single apiece.

DAVE Harber blasted a homerun for Blue Ribbon, B. Rasescracked a pair of triples while Mike Harrison, Brady, Mike Contino, Dave Harber and Jeff Rase each had a single.

A five-run third inning carried IOOF to the win over Rotary.

Nelson Burton Jr. Leads PBA Standings

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — With the Professional Bowlers Association tour just past the halfway point, Nelson Burton Jr. of St. Louis, Mo., holds a slight lead over Don Johnson of Akron in average pinfall per game.

Burton, who captured the pin race in 1970 and finished second to Johnson last year, is averaging 216.9 pins to Johnson's 215.5. Just behind Johnson are Earl Anthony of Tacoma, Wash., and Johnny Guenther of Seattle, Wash., with pin averages of 215.24 and 215.19.

Jeffs Pride Wins Race At Latonia

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP)—Jeffs Pride moved into the lead at the halfway mark and held on to score a half-length victory in the featured ninth race at Latonia Race Course Friday night.

Covering the mile in 2:05 2-5, the winner paid $9.40, $6 and $4.20. Water Loo placed for $11 and $6.20 and Grays Dream showed for $4.20.

A $111.60 daily double was produced on the combination of Peaceful Pat, which paid $21.40 to win, and Flight Land.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our husband and father, "Robert Stevenson" who passed away July 20th, 1986. Six years have come and gone. Since that morning God called you home. It was a shock to hear But there was "God" so very near. He shared with us our "sorrows". We placed them on your shoulders. Our sorrow was f...d in comfort. We were given courage. To final peace in having known Mrs. Stevenson and her daughter "Diane".

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our husband and father, "Robert Stevenson" who passed away July 20th, 1966.
Six years have come and gone
Since that morning God called you home.
It was a shock to bear
But there was "God" so very near.
He shared with us our sorrows.
We shared them on his shoulders.
Our sorrow was f'd in comfort.
We were given courage.
To find peace in having known him.
Sadly missed by wife "Mrs.
— Frances Stevenson" and — daughter "Diane".

PH EASANTS — Young pheasants appear blurs in the picture above as the Pickaway County Farmers and Sportsmen Association released 20 crates of the young birds in their club-made pheasant pen. The pen, well-stocked with foliage, water and feed, will be the home of the pheasants until they are able to fly from its confines. Game Warden Tom

Weldon, who arranged for the pheasants to be shipped in from Urbana, said five feathers were clipped from each bird to hamper extended flying and insure the birds will be caged for at least two weeks. Pictured releasing the birds is a club-member Weldon Owens. Walter G. Richards is standing behind him.

Local Girl Attends Ohio Forestry Association Camp

Barbara Baylous, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baylous, Route 1, Kingston, Ohio was one of 328 students attending the Ohio Forestry Association's 1972 camp. Barbara, a Logan Elm High School student, was sponsored by Cole Nursery.

Nearly 4,000 have completed this one-week course on natural resources since its beginning in 1950. Students study dendrology, forest ecology, silviculture, wood utilization, geology, nature studies and wildlife management and get a glimpse of both federal and state programs assisting woodland owners.

Twenty-four professionals in the natural resources field donated their time to give these youth the benefits of many years of experience.

Students spend most of the time out of doors. In addition to study areas on the Hidden Hollow property, each spent one day on forestry and geology studies at the Mohican State Forest, stopping en route at the Kaple sawmill, Shiloh, Ohio, to see what the well-managed forest gives them in the way of products and to learn how these are processed.

The over-all purpose of the camp is to make these young students more knowledgeable concerning our natural resources — that they may therefore be an asset to the community in which they live.

These students are sponsored by Soil and Water Conservation Districts, individuals, companies, civic groups and other interested organizations.

The 1973 camp will be held at Hidden Hollow in Richland County on June 19-23. Students who will be between 15 and 19 years old, have completed the ninth grade, and who have a keen interest in conservation and the out of doors are encouraged to contact their county SWCD office or the Ohio Forestry Association, The Neil House, Columbus, Ohio 43215 for additional information.

Crash Injures Two People

Perry F. Van Hooser, 67, Route 6, Chillicothe, was charged with failure to yield the right of way while making a left turn after he pulled into the path of a car on Route 23 at County Road 511 10:18 p.m. Friday.

According to Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Don Thompson and Auxiliary Deputy Robert Woodward, Van Hooser was southbound on Route 23 and attempting to cross the northbound lane of the road onto County Road 511 when his car was hit in the right rear by a car driven by Carl Kirk, 48, Route 1, Ashland, Ky.

Both cars sustained heavy damage in the crash.

Evelyn Kirk, 35, a passenger in Kirk's car, complained of left arm injuries. Richard Rohr, 12, Tipp City, also a passenger in Kirk's auto, had visible abrasions to his right leg.

Two other passengers were not hurt.

Laurel Run Bridge Work Is Begun

State Highway Director J. Phillip Richey reports work is underway driving piling for a temporary bridge over Laurel Run, west of Laurelville in Pickaway County, to be used for Ohio 56 traffic during the removal and replacement of the existing bridge.

The $224,496 improvement project was awarded, June 20, by the department to Howard Phillips, Inc. of Hilliard.

Seven local workers are expected to be employed of the project. Total estimated payroll for the improvement, scheduled for completion June 30, 1973, is $50,000.

Traffic will be maintained over the temporary bridge, a temporary run-around, existing and new pavement.

John Hartley, Tarlton, is project supervisor for the Department of Highways.

Man Charged With Armed Robbery And Auto Larceny

Frank Jackson, 25, Route 1, Ashville, is being held in Pickaway County jail in lieu of $50,000 bond after he was charged with armed robbery and auto larceny by Deputy Sheriff Jim Deal early Saturday morning.

Charges of leaving the scene of an accident, driving without an operator's license, carrying a concealed weapon, and the theft of the gun are pending, according to Deal.

Details of the crimes unraveled slowly for Deal, as Jackson was being held in the Franklin County jail on an intoxication charge during his investigation.

According to the report, Deal was dispatched to the Trackman Club, Route 665 and 23 in Franklin County, 3:10 a.m. Saturday by Franklin County Sheriff's Deputies to investigate a hit-skip accident that occurred in Pickaway County.

Clarence Radcliffe, Columbus, told Deal that he followed a car, found abandoned with motor running at the Trackman, to the Shadesville bar after it veered into the side of his northbound Roadway Express truck several times on Route 23 a half mile north of Route 762.

Deal discovered that the car involved was owned by Edgar M. Bryant, Route 1, Stoutsville, and while he was trying to phone Bryant at his home, Bryant called the Sheriff's Department 4:13 a.m. to report the theft of his car and wallet on Route 752, east of the Circleville-Groveport Road.

Bryant said the man responsible was Frank Jackson.

Deal checked with the Franklin County jail and found that Jackson had been arrested at the Trackman just prior to his arrival for intoxication and was being held in lieu of bond.

Jackson paid the $30 bond money and was released to Deal when the deputy went to pick him up.

From witness statements, Deal theorizes that Jackson met with an unknown man at a South Bloomfield bar and stole his .25 caliber automatic pistol from under the car seat.

He met Bryant in an Ashville bar about 1 a.m. and Bryant offered to drive him home.

On Route 752, Jackson allegedly asked Bryant for some money, and when Bryant refused, Jackson pulled the gun from his shirt and fired "four or five shots" at the astonished Bryant.

Jackson then ordered Bryant from the car, took his wallet with $36 and drove away.

After bumping the truck on Route 23, he drove to the Trackman where he became engaged in an argument and was arrested before Deal arrived at the scene.

Deal speculates that part of the money used for bail in Franklin County was taken from Bryant. He said Jackson had $50.76 in his wallet at the time of his arrest in Franklin County and told Deal later that $70 of the money is mine.

The gun was found near the car at the Trackman.

Police Checking Break-In Attempt

Circleville Police are checking an attempted breaking and entering at the Harold Rubin residence, 1181 Lone Pine Road, Friday.

A window had been forced open but entry to the house was not gained.

Mrs. Charles Strong, 409 E. Ohio St., reported the theft of a girl's bicycle from her garage Friday.

Someone tried to make off with a gun dispensing machine from in front of the South Scioto Street Restaurant early this morning.

The machine was found on the sidewalk in front of 229 S. Scioto. It was apparently abandoned when one of the glass containers broke, spilling gun balls over the walk.

Sheriff Recovers Stolen Trailer

Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff recovered an auto transport trailer, Tuesday, valued at $1,000, that was stolen from Clifton's Auto Sales Nov. 15, 1971.

Sheriff Radcliff said he received a call from Jeff Clifton Tuesday after Clifton spotted the trailer being pulled north on Route 23. Clifton apparently tailed the car until he could copy the license number, a Kentucky registration.

Radcliff and Clifton toured Columbus salvage yards Tuesday after a roadblock failed to locate the stolen trailer.

A yardman at the Stimmel Road salvage pool told the men that he remembered the trailer and it had left about a half hour earlier headed for Point Auto Parts store, Louisa, Kentucky.

The trailer again slipped through roadblocks, but was finally stopped at the intersection of Route 23 and 22 by Deputies Warren Straley and Phil Brown.

The three boys in the car pulling the trailer were booked for failing to pay for gasoline at a South Bloomfield service station.

Arle Joe See, manager of the Louisa store, told Sheriff Radcliff that he bought the trailer from Billy G. Laney, Dublin.

See, who was charged with receiving stolen property, will appear in Municipal Court Monday.

Laney, who was charged with counterfeiting earlier this year, is serving a federal sentence in Sandstone Federal Penitentiary, Arizona.

McGovern

McGovern is not going to ask me to withdraw."

Although McGovern said, "We ought to get together at the end of the week and see where we're at," a decision could come sooner.

They could meet as early as Sunday. McGovern is due back in Washington in the early morning hours Sunday, and Eagleton is also scheduled to return from his first campaign swing.

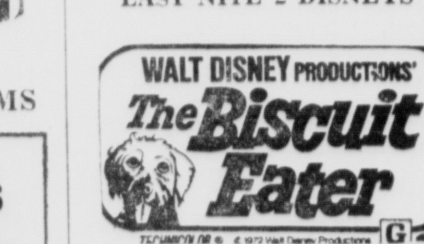

McGovern's statement that a change was under consideration came amid continuing rumors in Washington that a decision had already been made to drop Eagleton, an unprecedented move that would require a meeting of the newly revamped Democratic National Committee to choose a new Democratic vice presidential candidate.

Each state's national committee members would cast a vote proportionate to the state's delegates to the recent Democratic National Convention.

The new committee, still in the process of being formed, is to have 278 delegates from the 50 states.

Local Girl Attends Ohio Forestry Association Camp

Barbara Baylous, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baylous, Route 1, Kingston, Ohio was one of 328 students attending the Ohio Forestry Association's 1972 camp, Barbara, a Logan Elm High School student, was sponsored by Cole Nursery.

Nearly 4,000 have completed this one-week course on natural resources since its beginning in 1950. Students study dendrology, forest ecology, silviculture, wood utilization, geology, nature studies and wildlife management and get a glimpse of both federal and state programs assisting woodland owners.

Twenty-four professionals in the natural resources field donated their time to give these youth the benefits of many years of experience.

Students spend most of the time out of doors. In addition to study areas on the Hidden Hollow property, each spent one day on forestry and geology studies at the Mohican State Forest, stopping en route at the Kaple sawmill, Shiloh, Ohio, to see what the well-managed forest gives them in the way of products and to learn how these are processed.

The over-all purpose of the camp is to make these young students more knowledgeable concerning our natural resources — that they may therefore be an asset to the community in which they live.

These students are sponsored by Soil and Water Conservation Districts, individuals, companies, civic groups and other interested organizations.

The 1973 camp will be held at Hidden Hollow in Richland County on June 10-16 and 17-23. Students who will be between 15 and 19 years old, have completed the ninth grade, and who have a keen interest in conservation and the out of doors are encouraged to contact their county SWCD office or the Ohio Forestry Association, The Neil House, Columbus, Ohio 43215 for additional information.

Crash Injures Two People

Perry F. Van Hooser, 67, Route 6, Chillicothe, was charged with failure to yield the right of way while making a left turn after he pulled into the path of a car on Route 23 at County Road 511 10:18 p.m. Friday.

According to Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Don Thompson and Auxiliary Deputy Robert Woodward, Van Hooser was southbound on Route 23 and attempting to cross the northbound lane of the road onto County Road 511 when his car was hit in the right rear by a car driven by Carl Kirk, 48, Route 1, Ashland, Ky.

Both cars sustained heavy damage in the crash.

Evelyn Kirk, 35, a passenger in Kirk's car, complained of left arm injuries. Richard Rohr, 12, Tipp City, also a passenger in Kirk's auto, had visible abrasions to his right leg.

Two other passengers were not hurt.

Laurel Run Bridge Work Is Begun

State Highway Director J. Phillip Richley reports work is underway driving piling for a temporary bridge over Laurel Run, west of Laurelville in Pickaway County, to be used for Ohio 56 traffic during the removal and replacement of the existing bridge.

The $224,496 improvement project was awarded, June 20, by the department to Howard Phillips, Inc. of Hilliard.

Seven local workers are expected to be employed of the project. Total estimated payroll for the improvement, scheduled for completion June 30, 1973, is $50,000.

Traffic will be maintained over the temporary bridge, a temporary run-around, existing and new pavement.

John Hartley, Tarleton, is project supervisor for the Department of Highways.

Man Charged With Armed Robbery And Auto Larceny

Frank Jackson, 25, Route 1, Ashville, is being held in Pickaway County jail in lieu of $50,000 bond after he was charged with armed robbery and auto larceny by Deputy Sheriff Jim Deal early Saturday morning.

Charges of leaving the scene of an accident, driving without an operator's license, carrying a concealed weapon, and the theft of the gun are pending, according to Deal.

Details of the crimes unraveled slowly for Deal, as Jackson was being held in the Franklin County jail on an intoxication charge during his investigation.

According to the report, Deal was dispatched to the Trackman Club, Route 665 and 23 in Franklin County, 3:10 a.m. Saturday by Franklin County Sheriff's Deputies to investigate a hit-skip accident that occurred in Pickaway County.

Clarence Radcliffe, Columbus, told Deal that he followed a car, found abandoned with motor running at the Trackman, to the Shadysville bar after it veered into the side of his northbound Roadway Express truck several times on Route 23 a half mile north of Route 762.

Deal discovered that the car involved was owned by Edgar M. Bryant, Route 1, Stoutsville, and while he was trying to phone Bryant at his home, Bryant called the Sheriff's Department 4:13 a.m. to report the theft of his car and wallet on Route 752, east of the Circleville-Groveport Road.

Bryant said the man responsible was Frank Jackson. Deal checked with the Franklin County jail and found that Jackson had been arrested at the Trackman just prior to his arrival for intoxication and was being held in lieu of bond. Jackson paid the $30 bond money and was released to Deal when the deputy went to pick him up.

From witness statements, Deal theorizes that Jackson met with an unknown man at a South Bloomfield bar and stole his .25 caliber automatic pistol from under the car seat.

He met Bryant in an Ashville bar about 1 a.m. and Bryant offered to drive him home.

On Route 752, Jackson allegedly asked Bryant for some money, and when Bryant refused, Jackson pulled the gun from his shirt and fired "four or five shots" at the astonished Bryant.

Jackson then ordered Bryant from the car, took his wallet with $36 and drove away.

After bumping the truck on Route 23, he drove to the Trackman where he became engaged in an argument and was arrested before Deal arrived at the scene.

Deal speculates that part of the money used for bail in Franklin County was taken from Bryant. He said Jackson had $50.76 in his wallet at the time of his arrest in Franklin County and told Deal later that $70 of the money is mine."

The gun was found near the car at the Trackman.

Sheriff Recovers Stolen Trailer

Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff recovered an auto transport trailer, Tuesday, valued at $1,000, that was stolen from Clifton's Auto Sales Nov. 15, 1971.

Sheriff Radcliff said he received a call from Jeff Clifton Tuesday after Clifton spotted the trailer being pulled north on Route 23, Clifton apparently tailed the car until he could copy the license number, a Kentucky registration.

Radcliff and Clifton toured Columbus salvage yards Tuesday after a roadblock failed to locate the stolen trailer.

A yardman at the Stimmel Road salvage pool told the men that he remembered the trailer and it had left about a half hour earlier headed for Point Auto Parts store, Louisa, Kentucky.

The trailer again slipped through roadblocks, but was finally stopped at the intersection of Route 23 and 22 by Deputies Warren Straley and Phil Brown.

The three boys in the car pulling the trailer were booked for failing to pay for gasoline at a South Bloomfield service station.

Arle Joe See, manager of the Louisa store, told Sheriff Radcliff that he bought the trailer from Billy G. Laney, Dublin.

See, who was charged with receiving stolen property, will appear in Municipal Court Monday.

Laney, who was charged with counterfeiting earlier this year, is serving a federal sentence in Sandstone Federal Penitentiary, Arizona.
